2 Men Die In Sunday Drownings

Saskatchewan River Claims Lives Of Two Swimmers

Two men lost their lives in drowning tragedies in the Saskatchewan river Sunday afternoon.

Dead are Jack Gagnon, 28, of Calmar and Metro Serediak, 22, of Andrew.

Gagnon, an oil worker at Calmar, sank while swimming in a murky backwater of the river below the Devon ferry.

His body was recovered about an hour and a half after it disappeared in the deepest part of the backwater. Fellow swimmers dived for the body but were hampered by the depth and extreme murkiness.

Two Devon men, Bruce Beatty and Ian MacLean finally brought the body to the surface.

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

Thirty or more persons aided in giving artificial respiration. They worked for three hours relieving each other at intervals, but the drowned man was pronounced dead on the arrival of a doctor.

It is not known what caused Gagnon to suddenly sink. It was believed he was not a strong swimmer and developed trouble when out over his depth.

Jack Hays ambulance took the body to the Royal Alexandra hospital at 5 p.m. yesterday.

NEAR ANDREW

Serediak was drowned when he was caught in treacherous currents of the Saskatchewan river about 10 miles from Andrew, and about 50 miles northeast of Edmonton.

RCMP are still dragging the area in attempts to recover the body.

13-Death Fire Still Blazing

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 8.—(UP)—The Northwest's worst forest fire in 40 years, which has devastated 6,000 acres and claimed 13 lives, is expected to be brought under control this afternoon, ranger headquarters said today.

The Montana blaze is the largest of an estimated 75 fires now raging in five states of the Northwest. Throughout the area, ranger headquarters said, an estimated 2,500 firefighters were battling 18,000 acres of burning timber and prairie.

A. D. Moir, supervisor of the Helena National Forest, said higher humidity, lower temperatures, and reduced wind velocity had quieted the Montana blaze somewhat.

STILL BURNING

"However, a 3½ mile front is still out of control," he said. "If a strong breeze should come up, the work of the past 96 hours would be wiped out in a few minutes."

The forces of nature already have struck two blows at the desperate efforts of 500 red-eyed, weary firefighters, some of whom have been fighting the blaze for 72 hours without relief. Lightning yesterday started two new blazes north of the main inferno, but these were brought under control last night.

The fire claimed its 13 victims over the week-end when 12 parachutists and one ground fighter were trapped by shifting winds and perished in the blaze. The 12 chutists were part of a crew of 15 forest service smoke jumpers who were dropped into Mann Gulch, a region so inaccessible that a 500-foot trail had to be hacked from the rock sides of a canyon to get the bodies out.

Clue Uncovered In Bank Theft

VANCOUVER, Aug. 8.—(CP)—A clue to the identity of the two bandits who robbed a Bank of Nova Scotia branch here Saturday, escaping with $6,100, is being followed up today by police.

They did not elaborate on the nature of the clue.

Four bank employes have picked out pictures of three men with police records. The employes said they were similar to the duo involved in the hold-up.

Alberta Forest Fires Still Offering Menace

Despite soaking rains of recent weeks over most of Alberta, forest fires still menace Whitecourt and Lac La Biche areas.

J. L. Janssen, chief provincial timber inspector, said today firefighters are still engaged in controlling fires in the Iosegun Lake district, north and west of Whitecourt, about 150 miles from Edmonton, and north and east of Lac La Biche, about 175 miles northeast of here.

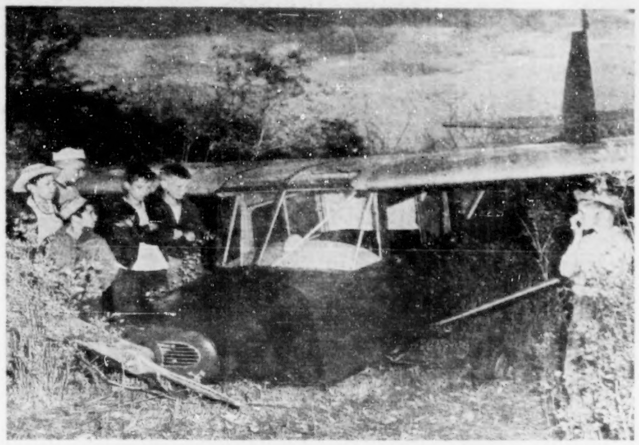
Mr. Janssen said fires flare up whenever winds strengthen.

Unless more rain falls these blazes will likely have to be watched until September.

Fires northeast of Lac La Biche are old ground fires, he said.

In the Lesser Slave Lake area, where great stands of timber were burned out along with several settlers' cabins in May and June, fires are all pretty well out.

The timber inspector said forest fire situation in Alberta this year is "most unusual."



LIGHT PLANE MISSES CITY HOMES

Youngsters mill around small aircraft which made a forced landing yesterday in field just few hundred yards from Edmonton airport. Pilot of the Edmonton Flying Club plane, Ronald Livingstone, was unhurt. Livingstone said motor 'conked out' 100 feet up.

Young Pilot Crash-Lands Plane in City

A railway fireman escaped death yesterday when he crash-landed his light plane in bush surrounded by houses just a few hundred yards from Edmonton airport.

The flying railroader, Ronald E. Livingstone, 22, of 11223-128 street, stepped uninjured from the Fleet Canuck he had rented from Edmonton Flying Club.

Livingstone crash-landed the plane in the field just a couple of minutes after taking off from the airport.

ENGINE STOPPED

He said the "engine conked out" when he was just 100 feet off the ground.

The plane, only slightly damaged, skimmed over several roof tops as it plummeted to earth.

But Livingstone was able to set the aircraft down where it wouldn't do any harm.

Undercarriage, prop and tail were smashed. M. A. Fallow, manager of the flying club, said damage would not exceed $200.

The young pilot, who has been flying for a year and has 35 hours in his log book, said the crack-up wouldn't stop him from flying again.

"Heck, a little thing like that won't keep me on the ground," he told reporters.

Mr. Fallow said he'd have the plane in the air again in two or three days.

"Our biggest problem," he figured, "is getting the plane out of the heavy bush without damaging it further."

CROWD GATHERED

A curious crowd of district residents milled around the crashed plane for more than an hour after the crack-up which was at about 7:30 p.m.

An air force man, who saw the plane come down, said he thought it lucky Livingstone missed houses on 119 avenue. Plane crash-landed within 200 yards of houses at intersection of 119 avenue and 129 street.

City police constables Frank Peck and George Vaughan investigated the mishap.

$6,500 Payroll Stolen In East

TORONTO, Aug. 8 — (CP) — Police said today thieves stole a payroll of $6,500 and a cash box containing $500 from the frame office of Anglin-Norcross Construction Co., on the site of the new Toronto hospital for sick children.

The theft, believed to have been committed during the weekend, was discovered early today by employes. Police said the thieves forced a window and jimmied a brick cupboard to get at the money.

LUCKY to be alive is Ronald Livingstone, 22, of 11223-128 street. Livingstone crash-landed small Fleet Canuck in bush surrounded by houses shortly after taking off from Edmonton airport last night. Aircraft, owned by Edmonton Flying Club, suffered only slight damage.

Toronto Police Press Suspected Killer Hunt

TORONTO, Aug. 8—(BUP)—Police searched today for an inquisitive stranger who asked questions about Robert and Gloria McKay last Monday, the day they were shot to death in their automobile.

They said if he could be found they might be able to esaablish a motive for the slayings which shocked Toronto at the height of an 11-day period in which police blotters listed six killings in this part of Ontario.

While homicide detectives stuck tentatively to their theory that the killer who beat and then shot McKay, 25, and his attractive brunette wife Gloria, 22, was a hitchhiker, they said the case had become so long-drawn without clues they were working on even the slimmest leads.

ASKED WHY

The man being sought, police said, stopped his new-model auto at a gas station about five miles from a farm where they were staying in the Barrie area and asked to be directed there. He also quizzed a general store clerk at Midhurst near the farm.

Meanwhile a farm worker who hitched a ride with the McKays two days befoire they were killed and their bodies driven to Toronto was cleared of suspicion after being grilled by members of the homicide squad.

The worker, a Swedish immigrant named Helge Lemmell, was unable to furnish any clue, police said.

CHARLOTTETOWN, Aug. 8. — (CP)—Fire late yesterday destroyed the barns of St. Dunstan's University farm near here, causing loss estimated at $50,000 to $60,000. Twenty milk cows, 15 calves and approximately 100 pigs were burned.

Flagpole-Sitting Ball Fan Becomes Father

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—(UP)—Charlie Lupica, perched for the last 70 days atop a flagpole over his drug store, tossed cigars to friends and passersby today to celebrate the birth of a son.

The seven-pound-one-ounce boy was born last night. And Charlie assured everyone that young Charlie, Jr., his fourth child, was not going to follow in the footsteps of his father.

"This boy will grow up regular," he said. "If he ever takes a silly bet like I did there will be trouble in the Lupica family."

The baby was born at St. Ann's Maternity Hospital, five miles from Charlie's flagpole perch. Charlie sweated out the stork's arrival on his platform where he vowed he'd remain until the Cleveland Indians regain first place.

Charlie said he has a sensible career already picked out for his son.

"The boy will definitely be a ball player," he declared. "But we haven't decided which team yet."

Ecuador Sets Up Powerful Airlift To Aid Victims

By CARLOS MANTILLA

QUITO, Ecuador, Aug. 8—(UP)—The Ecuadorean government organized a powerful airlift today to rush food and supplies to the earthquake centre 70 miles south where the mounting death toll was reported to have reached 5,000.

Planes of every type and description took off at the rate of one every ten minutes for the flight to Ambato, a thriving industrial and farmign city of 20,000 that was completely destroyed by Friday's series of quakes.

President Galo Plaza Lasso reported to the nation that the six cities of Ambato, Guano, Pelileo, Pillaro, Patate and Salcedo were completely destroyed.

TOWN WIPED OUT

The death toll, he said in a radio broadcast after spending 40 hours in the disaster area, had reached 5,000 and there were an estimated 20,000 injured.

The town of Pelileo, he said was completely obliterated.

"Of 3,500 inhabitants, only 300 were left," he told the nation in an appeal for contributions to the

New Highway Link Planned

OTTAWA, Aug. 8 — (BUP) — Plans for early construction of a 58-mile addition to the northwest highway system connecting Atlin, B.C. to the Alaska Highway were announced today by Defense Minister Brooke Claxton.

The project will be undertaken by the Canadian army at the joint request of British Columbia and the federal mines and resources department, Claxton said.

LINK TO COAST

Atlin is an isolated community accessible at present only by air or by tractor train in winter. The proposed road will connect it through, not only to the Alaska Highway, but also to the Pacific Coast at Haines, Alaska.

The new road, which will help in the mineral and forestry development of the area, will be 58 miles in length, of which a little over 26 miles will be in the Yukon, the remainder in British Columbia.

Costs will be shared by the mines and resources department and by British Columbia, the former supplying $250,000, the latter providing $200,000.

Work will be carried out by Royal Canadian Engineers of the Northwest Highway System under the supervision of Brig. A. B. Connelly, commander and chief engineer of the system.

Oil Pipeline Ready By Fall of 1950

Oil from the Leduc field will be flowing through the 470-mile pipeline to Regina by autumn of 1950.

Prediction of completion of the pipeline next fall was made by Dr. O. B. Hopkins, vice-president, Imperial Oil Ltd., who arrived here today on an inspection trip.

He is accompanied by T. F. Johnston, president of Interstate Pipe Co. Tulsa, Okla., and L. F. Kahle, Imperial Oil executive in charge of transportation and supply.

PLAN EXTENSION

Extension of the pipeline to head of the lakes is being considered. Plans are now in the formative stage, but no final decision has been made on this project, Dr. Hopkins stated.

Present visit to Edmonton is in connection with engineering and costs of the proposed extension, he said.

Designing and engineering of the pipeline to Regina has been completed, and laying of pipe will start next spring.

Love Slayer Gets 70 Years

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 8—(AP)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., of St. Louis today was sentenced to 70 years in prison for the love triangle slaying of 28-year-old Byron C. Hattman.

The court said that because of the statutes and honor time for good behavior Rutledge's period of imprisonment would be approximately 30 years "at worst."

During the trial of Dr. Rutledge, the defence contended that Hattman met death in a fight Dec. 14 in a Cedar Rapids hotel room.

The fight, the defence said, followed the doctor's attempts to persuade Hattman to cease his attention of Mrs. Rutledge.

The defence claimed Hattman "seduced and debauched" Mrs. Rutledge following a sailboating and drinking party last summer.

Wind Wrecks Grain Annex

Office building of the Alberta Pacific elevator and double annex of the Searle Grain Company, along with four box cars, were blown over at Marwayne early this morning.

The wind was accompanied by heavy rain and some hail but there were no immediate reports of damage as rural telephone lines were blown down.

The annexes were empty of grain.

Peace River Area Resident Is Slain

Special to The Bulletin

PEACE RIVER, Aug. 8—One man is dead and another is being sought by an RCMP posse following a crazed shooting at Lake Winagami early Sunday.

Dead is George Ward, about 35, of Kathleen, 40 miles southeast of Peace River.

Object of the RCMP bloodhound search is Ward's friend, Louis Nadeau, a treaty Indian, also of Kathleen.

Witnesses told police the shooting occurred following a party in a shack on the shore of Lake Winagami, two miles from Kathleen.

Nadeau is said to have taken up a rifle and walked out of the cabin. He first took a shot at a group of children playing nearby and missed.

He is then alleged to have said: "I'm going to shoot the next man who comes out of the shack."

INSTANTLY KILLED

Seconds later, Ward stepped out the door and was killed instantly when a bullet crashed through his chest.

The dead man is believed to have come out to reason with the crazed Indian.

Dr. H. W. Fish, district coroner, stated there was no indication that there had been any drinking in the cabin.

The death weapon is said to have been borrowed by Nadeau from a nearby logging camp where he said he was going to use it to shoot game.

GUN DISCOVERED

Before fleeing to the woods, Nadeau is believed to have returned the gun to the camp where it was discovered about 4 a.m. Sunday.

All available RCMP men in the Peace River area are participating in the search. Two bloodhounds from Westlock have been put on the trail of the alleged killer who is hiding out in dense timber.

In charge of the investigation is Corporal J. 'Flash' Lyneas.

Heat Wave Waves S'long, Heads East

There's a mass movement to the east that isn't going to make anyone mad—not even the real estate people.

The heat is on the move.

Edmonton is in for cooler weather.

Here's what the weatherman has to say about today:

"Cloudy with rainshowers. Cooler than yesterday."

The gent with meteorological crystal ball claims it's going to stay cooler, too—at least for a while.

HIGH 70 TODAY

It says the high today will be 70, with rain on and off most of the day.

Apparently the heat wave is rolling eastward. The maximum temperature from Medicine Hat to Regina on August 6 was 100 degrees. On August 7—yesterday—it had dropped to 89 at the Hat and was 94 at Swift Current.

Edmonton had a spot of rain over the weekend.

It's all part of a plan conceived by a small low pressure area which moved in here from Kamloops and is winging its way toward Athabasca about now.

NOT STORM CENTRE

The weatherman says it can't actually be called a storm centre. "Call it a weak storm," he said.

Edmonton had .28 inches of rain since yesterday morning. Thunderstorms in the late afternoon and early evening, combined with close to three hours of rain early today, piled up the total.

BIG STURGEON

Girl Anglers Snare Fish Bare Handed

OTTAWA, Aug. 8—(CP)—When it comes to catching fish, you don't need all this fancy-dan tackle, or even a hook and line. All you need is a boat.

That, at least, is the opinion of two Ottawa girls, Antoinette Murphy and Theresa Sullivan, who captured a 50-pound sturgeon in the Ottawa River Saturday after it leaped out of the water and landed square in the middle of their small rowboat.

The two young women, one a non-swimmer, managed to control the 58-inch monster with an oar until two young men in a canoe assisted in hauling the boat to shore. The sturgeon weighed exactly 50 pounds.

Teachers Hope To Win Federal Education Aid

OTTAWA, Aug. 8—(CP)—The president of the Canadian Teachers Federation today appeared optimistic about the outcome of the teachers' Federal-Aid-for-Education campaign.

"We have made some fairly good progress in the past year," said C. J. Oates of Vancouver. "Generally speaking there has been no opposition to our campaign."

Mr. Oates spoke during a telephone interview shortly after his arrival in Ottawa for the federation convention this week.

SEEK FEDERAL AID

For a year now the teachers have been urging the federal government to assist the provincially-controlled educational systems.

Mr. Oates said that in the last five years the federal government has instituted social services costing "half as much again" as the entire amount spent on elementary and secondary education in Canada.

He noted the amount of money paid out annually in corporation taxes, luxury taxes, liquor taxes—on the federal level and deplored the fact that "not one dollar" of these taxes is committed to education.

He added that as far as national defence is concerned, and Canada's position in the world of trade, the dominion, in future, is going to be "dependent on the education of her citizens, not on their numbers."

5 DAYS OF SESSIONS

While Canadian youngsters are lapping up the few weeks remaining of summer holidays, their teachers have settled down to five days of hard work at the 28th annual CTF conference which gets under way Monday with a series of closed executive and directors' meetings.

In all, between 75 and 100 persons will attend the meetings. All 10 provinces will be represented, and it is expected the Newfoundland Teachers' Association will officially join the Canadian organization at this time.

Directors of the federation will be asked to approve the report of a survey which the CTF conducted in April and May on living and working conditions of teachers across Canada.

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 8—(CP)—More than 70,000 workers made idle for the last six weeks by a country-wide coal strike, today went back to work.

The return to jobs was the first big result of the army's working of open-cut coal mines in New South Wales as a counter to the strike of Australia's 24,000 miners for a wage increase and reduction in the work week.

In its first five days of work, the army delivered 30,500 tons of coal to rail heads. This was barely 10 per cent of normal coal production here but already it has been enough to ease drastic restrictions.

Silent Thought Can Do Wonders

Many People Fail In Life Because They Don't Think

The Bulletin continues today publication of a condensation of the widely-acclaimed book, "A Guide to confident Living," by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. Dr. Peale, noted Protestant clergyman, has been minister of Marble Collegiate Church in New York since 1932. He has achieved impressive results as a pastor by forging a link between religion and psychiatry to gain happiness and success for thousands of people. Dr. Peale's principles for confident living will appear in 17 daily chapters.

CHAPTER 6

A New York businessman came to our church clinic. He was a successful man holding a rather important position.

By an extraordinary summoning of his energies, he was able to keep going. His expenditure of nervous energy was immense. He felt depleted in energy and had little strength and no zest. His mind was haunted by interlocking obsessions.

"What do I need?" he asked.

"Mental conditioning," I replied.

"What is mental conditioning?" he asked in some surprise.

"It is a process to freshen up the mind," I explained.

He told me that he was "no good until 11 o'clock in the morning. I have an awfully hard time getting up, and when I do, I am disagreeable and unhappy until about 11. Then I manage to perk up and do pretty well for a few hours."

"What time do you get up?" I asked.

"Around 9. I have a wonderful wife. She serves my breakfast in bed."

"Now isn't that sweet?" I said. "She comes in and says consolingly, 'How are you, sweetheart,' doesn't she?"

"Yes," he said, "how did you know?"

"And what do you do? You groan, 'Oh, I feel so terrible!' Then she puts her soft hands lightly on your brow, and says, 'That's all right, sweetheart, you just lie there and I will bring you up some breakfast'."

"Yes, that's what she does. Isn't that wonderful?"

Not A Wife, But A Mother

"You haven't a wife. She is acting like a mother, babying you," I said.

"The doctor says there is nothing wrong with me except my mind," he continued. "He says I'm a victim of self-pity as a result of wrong-thinking."

"Your doctor is right," I said. "You need to have your mind reconditioned. I suggest that you pray and ask for strength—then believe that strength is being given you."

"Tomorrow morning when your wife comes into your room and asks how you are, give her a crisp, healthy answer. Say to her, "I feel new strength—through God's help I know I'm all right." Then get out of bed, and go singing in to shave."

"She would die of a heart attack" he said.

"Get downstairs," I continued, "and eat breakfast at the table. Get started to your office by 9 o'clock." I thought it ought to be 8:30, but I didn't want to be too hard on him.

"That wears me out to think about it," he said.

★ ★ ★

"It's your thoughts that wear you out," I explained. "But you won't be tired if you conceive of God's energy as being yours."

I did not see him for quite a while. Then one day I met him on the street.

"Do you remember that mental conditioning business you told me about?" he asked. "Well, all the way down the street that day I thought, "That man Peale is a fool. Mental conditioning—affirming I feel fine; of all the crack-brained notions."

"Then I got to thinking maybe I really was not as bad off as I had been assuming.

"A few mornings later I was certain I felt better and decided to try out your suggestion. My wife came in and said, 'How are you?' 'Fine', I answered, 'marvelous!'

"I leaped out of bed, swept her off her feet, kissed her and set her down hard, and went singing in to shave. You never saw such an expression on anybody's face. And—I had a good day and I have been practicing your idea ever since."

"When a negative thought tries to sneak into my mind, I affirm that God is flooding my mind with peace and strength. I have found that when you affirm it, you have gone a long way toward having it."

Life Will Be Different

Get your mind renewed and life will be different!

An industrialist discovered the truth of this. He underwent a physical examination and the doctor said, "There is nothing wrong with you that cannot be cured by a new mental outlook on life." He charged plenty for this prescription and well he should, for it was sound advice.

The industrialist went to his minister. He got his thinking changed—got the worry and fear thoughts out.

Rid of the thoughts that were poisoning his mind, he is now a new man. He learned to think his way to success and happiness.

It is said that John D. Rockefeller Sr. once employed a man at $25,000 a year whose job was to sit in a swivel chair and think up new ideas for the business.

A jealous person compained to Mr. Rockefeller, "Why do you pay that fellow $25,000 a year for swiveling around in a swivel chair and staring out the window?"

Mr. Rockefeller said, "If you can think up as many good ideas as he does, I will give you $25,000 a year and a swivel chair." Do not conclude, however, from this incident that every man who swivels in a swivel chair is worth $25,000 a year. Many are merely engaging in intellectual free wheeling.

★ ★ ★

One of the outstanding practical thinkers in American business is Beardsley Ruml, often referred to as America's No. 1 idea man.

Ruml's method of tackling problems is to sit in a chair and do nothing. He has advised executives who have problems on their hands to lock themselves up, sit in a chair, and do nothing for at least an hour a day.

It is essential for apprentices at musing, that there should be no newspapers or other reading matter around to break the spell.

Ruml spends much more than an hour a day in sessions of this kind. With his mind released from ordinary influence, he can command wider vistas of fact and theory than when methodically studying a subject.

Avoid Logical Methods

Ruml doesn't proceed from premise to conclusion or follow any know logical method in inventing his plans. He doesn't seem to hear voices or receive messages.

His faculty is usually described as clairvoyance or intuition, two unsatisfactory words which fail to throw much light on what actually goes on in his mind.

In one industry a 'silent room' has been set aside for executives where without books or other paraphernalia they may have solitude to practice the art of creative thinking.

Dr. Frederick Kettner, authority on youth training, considers the practice of creative silence a vital part of education. Silence brings about remarkable changes in young people.

He makes the unique suggestion that the architecture in the modern age should include a 'silence' room in each home where man can figuratively wash his brain and heart.

Many modern homes include a 'rumpus' room, primarily intended for the children. Judging from current domestic situations, it would seem that there are altogether too many 'rumpus' rooms in homes. We need more 'silence' rooms.

U.K. Nudists 5-Year Plan Nears Maturity

HORLEY, Surrey, England, Aug. 8—(AP)—So now it's the nudists who have a five-year plan.

In five years of campaigning, the British Sun Bathing Association disclosed Saturday night, nudists hope to win the right to bathe in their birthday suits on approved public beaches.

And frolic in the raw in approved public parks.

Mrs. Sylvia Bassam, attractive, 34-year-old secretary of the Association, said the society will win its point by bold publicity.

The nudists don't want nudists and non-nudists taking the sun together. They want certain public beaches set aside for nudists only.

The BSBA central organization of nudists prizes propriety above all. No beer or liquor is sold at the camps although many of the members love their pint of mild and bitter.

The BSBA's emblem is a pot-bellied bear.

Student Pilot Dies In Crash

KELOWNA, B.C., Aug. 8—(CP)—The 19-year-old student pilot of a Cessna monoplane was killed Saturday when his engine apparently stalled as he took off from the newly-opened Kelowna airport.

The victim, Roy Barlee of nearby Okanagan Mission, had made a successful take-off. The plane was seen to bank sharply at about 150 feet and plummet into the ground. The airport was opened less than a week ago.

WHY TEMPT FATE IN L.A. JUST NOW?

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8—(UP)—A movie studio was forced today to substitute a sound stage version of a district attorney's office for the genuine article in the Los Angeles civic centre.

District Attorney William E. Simpson gave the film company an unqualified "no" when asked permission to use his office fo shooting a scene.

The plot called for four thugs to seize an actor playing a district attorney, beat him to death and toss his body down a fire escape.

5,000 Reported Dead In 'Quake

Quito blood bank for earthquake victims.

A farmer from Pellio, who arrived in Quito carrying his injured daughter in his arms, said only 80 persons remained in Pellio. All others were killed or fled to the countryside, he said.

Rescue workers who reached the town of Guano, near Ambato in the quake area, could not find a single survivor from among the 6,000 inhabitants. All had been killed or fled, they said.

Earthquake damage spread across an area of 4,000 square mlies with a population of 100,000. Seventy per cent of all houses in the area were destroyed, rescue workers reported.

Airlift planes on their return journey from Ambato brought injured victims for treatment in Quito's hospitals. Government and private planes both flew the airlift.

Pan American Grace Airways planes joined the airlift and the president, A. B. Shea, said the full facilities of the airline had been placed at the disposal of the Ecuadorian government.

U.S. SENDS PLANES

It was understood that the American Caribbean air command also would send planes from Albrook Field in the Panama canal zone to join the airlift. Air force officials said the Caribbean command has standing orders to help in such emergencies.

Roads and rail lines to Ambato and other cities in the quake area still were blocked by landslides. An engineer said there were 27 breaks in the rail line alone and that it would take weeks for repairs.

Some small tremors continued yesterday, but of less intensity than the series of 15 shocks that levelled the area Friday. Several buildings in Ambato, weakened by Friday's shocks, collapsed when the new tremors hit them yesterday.

MANY BURIED

An eyewitness to the disaster, Dr. Cristobal Cornejo, a former interne at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., said the death toll will not be known exactly for weeks because many victims were deeply buried under tons of rubble and the survivors had scattered.

"The magnitude of the disaster is indescribable," he said. "Pelilo has simply disappeared. Where the town once stood is now nothing but a wasteland of rubble. Rescue work is practically impossible. The rubble in many parts of town is four meters (13 feet) deep."

Princess Pats Prove First Grade Soldiers

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C., Aug. 8—(CP)—Eight months ago, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry were some 300 strong and they didn't know much about parachutes.

Today, nearly up to full strength of roughly 800 men as an airborne infantry battalion, they were recognized as probably the brightest feature of Exercise Eagle, the three-day land-air manoeuvres that ended yesterday along the first 50 miles of the Alaska highway.

TOP GRADE SOLDIERS

Brig. "Rocky" Rockingham of Vancouver, one of Canada's toughest and best combat soldiers in the recent war and now back in civilian life, flatly called them "magnificent." Maj. Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, army chief in the west, said their enthusiasm, zeal and discipline were the best he has ever seen and he has seen two wars.

The Pats, latest version of a regiment that suffered 6,000 casualties in those two wars, are the first of three regular battalions to be trained for a role in the airborne brigade. It was the opinion of reporters, some of them ex-war correspondents, that if they are any criterion, the brigade is going to be pretty hot.

HIGH STANDARD

Led by quiet, able, Lt. Col. Donald Cameron, DSO, originally of Cornwall, Ont., the Pats are a mixture of veterans and youngsters who didn't get into the war. They are big, tough and intelligent, reflections of the high post-war standards for entrance to the army.

They are trained to parachute, to move equipment by air transport and to use gliders. And they did all those things in Exercise Eagle.

On Fort St. John airfield, key to the attack, they dodged among the buildings, firing blank ammunition, while hundreds of civilians and military observers stood around watching.

Before the exercise, Gen. Penhale told correspondents the bulk of the battalion still needs a lot of ground training. Normally based at Calgary, they are heading for the training camp at Wainwright, Alta., now to get it. But their house-clearing on the airfield impressed Americans from the 82nd airborne division.

TYPICAL SOLDIERS

Col. Cameron chuckles that some of the youngsters' chatter about their jumps is "insufferable." But he says they generally are typical post-war soldiers, serious, solid people who have entered the army for financial security, second to learn a trade and third to learn to jump.

For being paratroops, his men are paid an extra $30 a month. That was what one of his men was referring to when a reporter told him it was a tough way to make a living and the soldier said:

"What the hell—30 bucks for 90 seconds work."

Police Quell Indian Riot

WALLACEBURG, Ont., Aug. 8—(CP)—Provincial police officers within a 75-mile radius were called to aid in quelling a near-riot on Walpole Island Indian Reserve early yesterday after two RCMP constables were beaten when they tried to break up a noisy drinking party.

Europe Council Holds Historic First Session

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 8—(UP)—Foreign ministers of 10 Western European countries assembled today for the historic first session of the Council of Europe.

Informed sources said they had agreed to grant immediate membership to Greece and Turkey but that there would be a stiff fight over German membership.

Greece and Turkey are expected to be formally admitted to the council, the first concrete step toward the old goal of European unity, at the opening conference this afternoon.

Greek and Turkish flags were flying alongside those of 10 original members outside the Strasbourg city hall. Two seats at the conference table already were designated for Greek foreign minister Constantin Tsaldaris and Turkish Foreign Minister Necmeddin Sadak.

However, officials said Tsaldaris and Sadak probably would not take their places at the council table until tomorrow.

Strasbourg's narrow streets and high gabled buildings were a colorful mass of flags, including the new green and white flag of the European Union. It has a green background with a large letter "E" in white.

Four Drown Near Verdun

LaPrairie, Que., Aug. 8—(CP)—The St. Lawrence River near this southshore town 10 miles from Montreal claimed the lives of four Verdun, Que., youths yesterday when their rowboat capsized during a fishing trip. Five other occupants of the boat were rescued.

Drowned were Andre Lavoie, 18, Kay Levesque, 20, Andre Montbriand, 14, and Ronald Charron, 18.

Police Chief Albert Lefebvre of LaPrairie said overcrowding of the boat, which normally holds six persons, had caused the craft to overturn.

The boat overturned in midstream, about 250 feet from shore. One of the boys at the helm of the motor-equipped rowboat shouted to two boys sitting in the bow to move back further in the boat.

When the boys half stood up to step back, they accidentally upset the boat and all nine were tossed into the river.

Pipeline Ready By Fall Of '50

along the route to Regina is continuing, and two pumping stations will be constructed.

One station will be located at Edmonton. The second will be placed at Ermine, a small station immediately east of Kerrobert, Sask.

WILL SUPPLY TANKERS

If proposal to construct line to head of lakes is proceeded with, 20-inch pipe will be used on the Edmonton-Regina leg of the line, and 16-inch pipe now on order for this leg will be utilized on section to the lakes.

If line is constructed to head of lakes, company tankers will transport the crude oil to Sarnia and other Ontario refineries.

Pipeline to head of lakes, if constructed, will have a capacity of 70,000 barrels daily.

Cost of the proposed line is set at between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000.

DECISION SOON

Steel situation is considerably easier, Dr. Hopkins stated, and pipe for the Regina line is assured. Possibility of securing the extra pipe for the extension of the line eastward is being explored.

Head of lakes terminal is the logical one for Alberta's oil production, he said. Decision on the extension should be made in the near future.

Edmonton Chamber of Commerce will tonight urge city council to facilitate establishment of the proposed new army ordnance depot in the city.

A Chamber Council resolution to this effect will be received by city council from Executive Ssecretary Don McKay.

It follows extensive discussion of the proposal with officers of Western Command, when consideration was given such features as nature of the depot, warehousing, maintenance, shops and administrative offices, construction of housing for army personnel, proximity of schools, extension of utilities, and other relevant information.

Establishment of the huge equipment depot and area headquarters struck vigorous opposition when it was proposed that 100 acres of Westmount Park be made available, plus 60 acres across the railway tracks for housing depot personnel.

Residents of the area raised such a clamor against using park area for an army arsenal that the site idea was dropped.

Negotiations are now going ahead with private individuals for land in the Dunvegan yards or Calder areas, either of which would be close to necessary railway trackage.

An Ontario visitor, Maurice B. Thomas, Macdonald hotel, reported to police the theft of about $475 in clothing from his car. Stolen were four coats, four dresses, one suit and five shirts.

The theft occurred sometime Saturday night while the auto was parked on the east side of the hotel. A right rear window of the car was forced.

ATA Lashes Gov't On School Policy

Some Schools Teacherless Nine Years, President Says

Alberta provincial government took another blast from the Alberta Teachers' Association.

In a prepared ATA press release, association general secretary Eric C. Ansley accused the government of "incongruous" actions.

He said the government offered $150,000 in scholarships to encourage young people to enter the teaching profession, yet told a Board of Trade and Agriculture delegation that school boards "would have to embark upon a policy of economy and retrenchment."

"These actions are incongruous.

"They will eventually lead to a bigger teacher shortage than ever," prophesied the ATA secretary.

Mr. Ansley left Saturday to attend the annual conference of the Canadian Teachers' Federation at Ottawa.

Two main items of business at the conference will be increased provincial grants for schools, and federal aid for schools.

". . . Right here in our own province," said Mr. Ansley, "thousands of rural children will never see a teacher in 1950, and some schools have had no teacher now for nine years in a row."

With Mr. Ansley at the national conference are F. J. Seymour, of Calgary, ATA president, and E. T. Wiggins, of Didsbury, immediate past president.

Tourists Mob Resort Parks

Alberta's lucrative tourist business is up 40 per cent this year over last.

A total of 457,970 auto tourists visited the province's parks during the first seven months of this year as compared with 329,513 during 1948, an increase of 128,457. Rail travellers are not included in the figures released today by H. P. Brownlee, provincial statistician.

Biggest business was done at Banff where 241,666 motorists saw the mountains. The largest increase in trade was at Elk Island Park where 82,725 persons were counted for an increase of 74 per cent over last year. A 73 per cent increase was shown at Waterton Lakes where there were more than 88,000 visitors. Jasper was visited by 45,438 autoists this season, an increase of 18 per cent.

Investigations Underway In Robbery Tales

Two city men were reported robbed by strong-arm thugs over the week-end.

John Hanatuke, 10509-93 street, told police that two men attacked him as he climbed into his truck at the rear of the Lincoln hotel.

In the scuffle he was knocked unconscious and regaining consciousness found $21 stolen from his wallet. He was taken to the Royal Alexandra for treatment to jaw injuries.

Two strong arm thieves intimidated Ken Allan, 9727-102 street, into giving up $11. He reported he was accosted at about 2 a.m. Sunday.

Police are investigating the reports, but no arrests have been made.

3 Injured As CNR Trains Sideswipe

Three Canadian National Railways crew members were injured when two freights sideswiped early today about 90 miles east of Edmonton.

Injured slightly were:

Engineer F. Herrley, 11137-125 street.

Trainman W. A. Johnson, 9003-88 avenue.

The two trains, No. 404 going East and an extra moving West, crashed together at Shonts, about five miles east of Tofield, at 2:03 a.m.

JUMPED SWITCH

No. 404 overran a siding switch. The engine of the east-bound freight rolled over, derailing three cars of the extra.

Engineer Herrley is thought to have suffered a broken nose. Mills and Johnson escaped with minor bruises.

No one aboard the extra was hurt.

Wreckage strewn on the track at Shonts held up rail traffic for several hours. CNR officials said the main line would be passable early in the afternoon. Meanwhile, he said, trains were being detoured via Vegreville.

West-bound passenger trains Nos. 1 and 3 were more than five hours late getting into Edmonton.

Army, Navy May Build

Extension of merchandising facilities to South Edmonton is contemplated by Army and Navy Department Store Ltd.

Two properties have been purchased on Whyte avenue, and decision will be made shortly which will be utilized as site for a store building.

Officials of the company confirmed that plans were being made for erection of store in South Edmonton.

This is the second departmental store to announce plans for building on Whyte avenue.

Recently C. Woodward Ltd., announced that property had been purchased on Whyte avenue for site of store building.

NEVER A LESSON

Young Fiddle-Tickler To Represent Alberta

In Alberta one doesn't have to be a hoary-headed veteran to hit the top bracket in oldtime fiddling.

Squares, quadrilles, lancers and jigs roll out from the strings and bow of a 12-year-old Kingman boy, Alfred Mayhre, with amazing tone, dexterity and skill.

Top find in the recent Search for Talent series conducted jointly by radio station CFRN and the Associated Commercial Travellers, the young fiddler has won for himself an all-expenses-paid trip to Toronto.

There he will compete against seasoned veterans in the old time fiddlers' contest at the National Exhibition early in September.

The radio station's series was in aid of the Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund. It unearthed an impressive number of young performers talented in many branches of the entertainment field. Selection of the winner was a difficult task, radio officials said.

Self-taught from the age of six, young Alfred was attracted to fiddling when for the first time he attended an old time dance in his farm home district 42 miles southeast of Edmonton.

It all seems like a dream to Alfred. When told he had been selected for the trip he said, "It's the biggest thing that ever happened to me . . . it's my first train ride and I think it will be quite a lot of fun."

The youngster is one of seven children in the Mayhre family who came to Canada from Norway in 1920.

While in Toronto Alfred will be guest of noted radio commentator, Kate Aitken.

In Alberta, 32,400 acres are expected to yield the sweet vegetable.

Greek Meet To Open Here

More than 200 delegates are scheduled to open the 17th annual district convention of the Greek Order of Ahepa tomorrow in St. George's Greek Orthodox Church at Jasper avenue and 114 street.

The three-day meet will be launched with a welcome to the city by Mayor Harry Ainlay.

Special speaker will be the association's district governor, Can Vlassie of Winnipeg.

Association business will occupy greater proportion of the convention, President James Anton said.

Main aim of the group is to provide high school and University scholarships for students of the Greek language, Mr. Anton explained.

In Alberta two scholarships are awarded annually to high school students and one for advanced Greek to University students.

Assisting Mr. Anton with arrangements are Secretary John Christopher and Chris Diamond.

Farmers Turn Out To Varsity Field Day

Eighth annual field day was held at the University of Alberta on Saturday. About 250 people, chiefly farmers, attended the event.

Tours of the various agriculture departments were conducted, and visitors saw new developments in horticulture, cereal crops, plant breeding, forage crops, and weed control.

Plant science department, which holds the annual visitors' day, has started new work in breeding of oil-bearing crops, such as sun flower, rape, and flax seeds.

Horticulture department showed how crops might be affected by prolonged drought, heavy freeze, and hammering hail.

Chairman of the event was Dr. A. G. McCalla, head of the plant science department.

Staff members were introduced to the visiting farmers and their families, including new faculty member, Dr. John Unrau, specialist in cereal breeding work, who is a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan and Washington State College.

The 71-year-old man had put all his business affairs in order, arranged and paid for his casket and funeral, and even had a card printed with his name, and the words: "Born 1878, Died 1949."

Citizens Use More Light

City power consumption for the first seven months of 1949 is 10.3 per cent more than it was a year ago.

Figures released today by Power Superintendent W. I. McFarland show the city used a total of 91,044,100 kilawatt hours of energy to the end of July, an increase of 8,513,600 kilowatt hours over the 82,530,500 used in the same period of 1948.

During the last week of July, city consumption was up 10 per cent over last year, from 2,530,100 to 2,782,800 kilawatt hours.

Biggest boost in consumption to the end of July was registered by the electric light department, which used 75,757,700 kilawatt hours, or 7,928,600 more than last year's 67,829,100.

Transit system consumption in the same period dropped 39,300 kilawatt hours from 9,209,100 to 9,169,800. But the pumping plant used 6,116,600 kilawatt hours, 624,300 more than last year's 5,492,300.

Total energy generated to July 31, including 39,399,000 k.w.h., sold to Calgary Power Ltd. jumped to 139,344,500, a hike of 41,033,600 over last year's 98,310,900.

Praying and Staying

Of great significance to Catholics and Protestants alike is the present crusade being conducted by Father Patrick Peyton in Western Canada for the restoration of daily family prayer.

In a world torn by suspicion and hatred, in a society tormented by constant increases in the incidence of violent crime, the quiet communion of each Canadian family with Almighty God represents one of the most potent influences for tranquility and peace and union of which we can possibly conceive.

There is no need to offer evidence here of the power of prayer. The Christian is aware of it. The non-Christian has only to try it to discover it.

But there is special pertinence in the slogan coined by Father Peyton with reference to the family.

"The family that prays together," he says, "stays together."

And if this campaign for family prayer accomplished nothing more than the solidity of families, which are the units of society and of civilization, it would solve nine-tenths of our current social problems.

The present crusade is conducted by Roman Catholics and, we presume, chiefly for Roman Catholics.

But it is entirely non-sectarian in its implications.

Family prayer is for every family, Catholic, Protestant, Jewish or Orthodox. God's grace is available to any man who asks.

A Good Museum for Every City

The royal commission on arts and science will get off to an unfortunate start if, as reported, its first concern will be to make the National Museum at Ottawa "one of the world's great museums."

The great majority of Canadian people don't give a hoot about making the National Museum a world famed institution. Nine-tenths of them will never see it anyway.

But they do care a great deal about museum facilities that are available to them.

A poor museum that accommodates the maximum number of people is a finer cultural asset than an excellent museum that accommodates only a minimum number of people.

Museums are only valuable as they are seen by the public.

Therefore, the first business of the royal commission should be, not to promote great cultural institutions in the East, but to insist upon the decentralization of cultural assets so that, in the case of museums, for instance, every Canadian city with more than 100,000 population can have a good museum of its own.

Nine-tenths of the museum items in the British Isles are tucked away in storage because there is no place to exhibit them.

The influence of the royal commission on arts and science should be sufficiently great to secure a number of these items on perpetual loan and satisfactory guarantees of safety so that every Canadian city of size could have an interesting museum safely housed in a fireproof building erected with federal assistance.

Certainly the centralization of art implied in the proposal to develop the National Museum at Ottawa into a world-famed institution will be intolerable to the Canadian people.

The commission should make it a special duty to see that whatever Canada possesses in the way of museum items or art should be made readily available to all the Canadian people.

Cut in Rural School Grants

It is unfair and unreasonable that because the province's system of bookkeeping is inadequate some 70 provincial school districts and divisions are going to take a 10 per cent cut in their grants.

There is nothing particularly obscure about the fact that money is appropriated in the legislature for school purposes on figures that are a year old.

It is not difficult to understand that the province should wish to straighten out this matter of school financing so that deficits in the estimates will not occur each fiscal year.

But it is difficult to understand why this weakness in provincial bookkeeping should have to be straightened out at the expense of the school districts.

The cost of education, like the cost of almost everything else, is constantly going up.

Frankly it should go 'up a great deal more because until the salaries of teachers are commensurate with the importance of their duties, the whole school system is going to suffer and the teacher shortage will be perennial.

As a matter of fact, the scholarship system in the faculty of education at the University is no more than an expedient.

The one factor that will secure enough teachers and guarantee a good educational system is the plain common sense factor of paying teachers enough money.

Instead of cutting grants, therefore, the provincial government should be thinking seriously of increasing them.

With a greater wealth at its command than ever before, the province should not find that contemplation difficult.

There is no better place to spend oil profits than on the creation of an educational system second to none.

Sales Tax on Veterans' Materials

One of the iniquitous applications of the sales tax is on the materials used by hospitalized veterans in occupational therapy.

A great quantity of wool, leather, etc., is used by these men, not only to break the monotony of hospital life and to pass the time, but as a means of making fingers and limbs more nimble.

This occupational therapy has been found of infinite value, not only in maintaining morale among patients, but as a direct curative method of dealing with various forms of injuries.

But on every square foot of leather or fabrics employed in this way, the sales tax is inexorably collected.

It is not fair.

It is not reasonable.

And it tends to penalize a system that enables the men wounded in Canada's service to recover their health.

The sales tax on these materials should be removed.

An amendment to the act is required for permanence.

But for the time being, an order-in-council, with which the present government is familiar, would do the trick.

ON THE RECORD

By Dorothy Thompson

Driving Germany Into Arms of Soviet Union

In the debate on the Atlantic Pact before the French parliament on July 25, the government's defence expert, M. Monteil, presented a more exact picture of the relative strength of the Soviet Union versus Europe than did the U.S. secretary of state in his statement for the house foreign affairs committee, three days later.

THOMPSON

M. Monteil declared that the 200,000,000 inhabitants of the Soviet Union are maintaining 5,000,000 soldiers in a state of mobilization.

Half are in land armies; half a million are military police; 600,000 each are in military-marine and air force. Land armies encompass 180 large divisions. The air force has 17,000 first-line planes, and Russia has the industrial capacity to produce 40,000 planes annually.

Youth organizations engaged in military training cover 15,000,000 young men.

Russian military budget is $13,000,000,000, and 74 per cent of all industrial activity is devoted to armaments, whereas in Germany, in 1939, only 30 per cent of industry was so allocated.

M. Monteil concluded this dismaying report by saying:

"We fear that we shall again have the glorious but dangerous role of being fore-guard. Our army cannot be of immense numbers but must be of highest quality. The Atlantic Pact can prove to be the best or worst measure dependent upon how military agreements are implemented. We have the right to await from our allies all the assistance we need in order to win the first battle."

Equal Menace

At the same time, French opinion still holds Germany to be a menace equal to Russia.

The committee on foreign relations recommended ratification of the pact by the chamber of deputies only on condition that the acceptance of any new Atlantic Pact members must be ratified by the French assembly.

This is obviously designed to prevent Western Germany and Spain from being admitted to the defence of Western Europe and, incidentally, makes American foreign policy dependent on a majority of the French parliament.

On July 25, the French foreign minister, Robert Schuman, made this explicit:

"It is unthinkable to France or her allies that Germany should be admitted as a nation capable of defending itself or of aiding the defence of the west."

These words can only be interpreted in Germany to mean that in case of Russian aggression all Germany will be abandoned to the Soviet armies.

She will not be defended, but be a battleground—and possibly the victim of atomic bombs.

For, on July 28, referring to collective strategic plans, French military authorities were quoted as "wondering whether the atomic bomb could be developed into a tactical as well as a defensive weapon—whether for instance, it could check a moving army by making a strip of territory untenable."

What strip of territory, and where?

Since the Atlantic Pact rules out preventive war and could, therefore, only operate after Russian armies had moved, these armies would have to be encountered (by atomic bombs according to the above reasoning) within Europe.

Atomic Weapons

It must be assumed that Russia would not undertake an attack on Europe without herself possessing atomic weapons or their equivalent in destructive power.

If, therefore, a battle with such weapons is engaged in the heart of Europe, what will become of the civilization the Atlantic Pact is designed to save?

Mr. Acheson is correct in saying that the threat and fear of the Soviet armies is the most powerful instrument for spreading Communism.

But what is true for Eastern Europe is also true for Germany.

Nations and personal survival outweigh ideology. If Germans are convinced that, in case of war, their country and they themselves will be abandoned to invading Soviet hordes, they may be expected to draw logical conclusions.

If one cannot defend oneself against an enemy, or be defended, the next best thing is to become an ally.

Cheers from Office Boy

Editor, Bulletin.—With regard to office workers hurrying to get coffee at their break periods, ignoring the traffic rules and thereby becoming jaywalkers, perhaps the West should adopt the method that has been in practice in large eastern cities for quite a number of years.

In the East, the office boy, usually, goes out for everyone's coffee or soft drinks. The coffee is brought in, in paper cups. These cups are thrown away after being used.

In this way the boy only has to make the one trip, and the office staff enjoy a longer break period insofar as they do not have to waste precious time in walking to the nearest cafe, or waiting in line in order to be served.

Be Canadian Or Else

Editor, Bulletin—In reply to "True Britisher," and "Fair to Canada," I think the both of them put together have the mentality of a two-year-old Canadian child, and that is saying too much.

"True Britisher" should realize that once he is in Canada he should either be a Canadian or go back home. A fine country this would be if everyone was like him, and were only true to the country they were born in.

When people of other nationalities enter this country they at least try to be good Canadians.

But if we should get a few more like the "True Britisher" and "Fair to Canada" this country sure would be a fine mess, or in other words, and I quote as "Fair to Canada" has summed it up a "mad man's country."

As for Canadians raising cain in Britain it was not because their boat was delayed but because these so-called Good Britishers fleeced every Canadian that first landed there by short-changing them, being they were not aware of the values of money. The Britishers had it coming to them.

It is true that we have some fine people from England, but the immigration authorities should be more careful and weed out people like our "True Britisher" and "Fair to Canada". They are an insult to the good Britishers that came over here and are trying to make good.

If we in Canada were as small minded as they are, we would certainly despise every Britisher coming over here. I was in Britain for over five years and can't say I enjoyed my stay, but I did not write any phony letters to the paper and moan about it.

In concluding I wish that they would take the "True Britishers" including "Fair to Canada," and send them back to Britain on the first boat (if Britain will have them back).

This would save a lot of space in the Bulletin for more sensible people to write their opposition in.

Laws of Divorce

Editor, Bulletin.—It is often argued that divorce laws should be modified because it is difficult to enforce them as they now stand—too many people are breaking them by devious ways.

I understand that the laws against theft, murder, perjury, are also difficult to enforce and numbers also break them.

Do you—and the clergyman—advocate changing those laws also?

Sane Drinking

Editor, Bulletin—It strikes me as peculiar that there is still so much opposition to sensible liquor legislation.

I can understand the antagonistic attitude which so many people take—and cannot help taking justly—when they see so many drunken persons crowding the downtown streets every Saturday night. But I feel that what they do not see is what proper legislation would give us. It would give us the opportunity of learning moderate drinking.

What better inducement does one find for drinking than a lack of liquor? During the war years people paid exorbitant prices for a bottle, as much as $25 in many cases, and they considered themselves fortunate to be able to get that. Had there been a plentiful supply of liquor, one would probably not have seen so much drinking and such a sharp rise in the list of alcoholics.

Let us have our bars—and when one feels like having a drink on a warm afternoon or a rainy evening, he or she can do so without rushing frantically to the liquor store and then home again.

Good Dogs or Snarling Curs

Editor, Bulletin.—In all this controversy between dog lovers and dog haters there should be little level-minded compromise.

Nobody minds a well-behaved dog. He is a pleasure and a joy forever—or as long as the good Lord lets him live. But these snarling, untrained curs that seem to abound in Edmonton, the kind that nip the postman's heels and howl at the moon all night, don't belong.

Like people, dogs aren't all good or all bad. There are some of both kinds.

Today's Text

For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.—James 3.16.

From Today's News

By JAMES D. WHITE

The rising of the Red Star over China inevitably upsets the balance of power in a divided world.

The weight of 475,000,000 people—a fifth of humanity—shifting from one side of the world-wide schism to the other is one reason for the white paper on China published last week by the United States state department.

One of the most important things this white paper did was to admit the futility of trying further to prevent the shift with the method used in the past.

That method was to support the legal government of China, as personified by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. It didn't work.

If any new method is to work, it will have to answer many grave questions growing out of the great shift in world power that Red China means.

Three of these questions have been raised by J. D. Ferguson, editor of the Milwaukee Journal. He asks what the impact of Red China, as shown by the white paper, will be on:

1. China's use of the veto in the security council of the United Nations.

2. China's loss of influence among western powers.

3. China's commercial treaties with western powers.

In Red hands, the Chinese veto presumably would be used in Russia's favor but Russia doesn't need this because her own veto is as absolute as anyone else's.

From the standpoint of the United Nations itself, the danger lies in the possible appearance of two sets of Chinese delegates at Lake Success.

It could split or wreck the UN if the United States and Russia insist upon supporting rival Chinese delegations and drag their respective allies along with them.

The answer to Ferguson's second question—what about China's loss of influence among western powers?—lies in the future course of power politics. But, it's probably already safe to say that Red success in China means more western influence lost there than China will lose in the west.

The firmer control the Reds gain over China, the greater their bargaining power will be with both Russia and the west.

As to China's trade treaties (Ferguson's third question), all have been condemned by implication by the Chinese Reds as "imperialistic" since they are associated with the old government. Specifically, they denounce the Sino-American trade treaty of 1946.

Looking Backward

1889—60 Years Ago

There is no prospect of the steamer, Northwest, coming up the river this season. Cumberland lake is so low that weeds are growing around the shore for a quarter of a mile out.

Tenders have been called for the construction of 80 miles of the Long Lake railway commencing at the south end of the lake.

F. Bredin left today for Lesser Slave Lake.

There has been 24 hours of continuous rain here.

Passengers who arrived on last night's train are delayed on the south side awaiting the subsiding of the flood.

1909—40 Years Ago

Hon. W. T. Finlay says crops in southern Alberta are the best in 27 years.

1919—30 Years Ago

Marfa, Texas: Two US army airmen, Peterson and Davis, were forced down near the Mexican border. They were captured by bandits and are held for ransom.

The new German constitution came into effect this week. Section one declares the German Empire to be a republican state.

To date I have thought of no way to beat this. I can't wear ear plugs, because then I would never get to sleep wondering what they were all talking about. I have thought of having three muzzles made, but I know there would be objections.

The tent idea itself is just wishful thinking. It wouldn't work in a neighborhood with so many dogs.

1929—20 Years Ago

Prospects of one of the bloodiest tong wars in years were seen today by additional killings in New York and Boston, bringing the total to five in two days of feud between Chinese organizations.

Science today gave fishermen something to think about when word arrived from Bermuda that radium had been used there to lure fish in deep sea fishing.

James R. Martin is credited with the invention of a "baby" automobile to be sold through department stores at $200 and having neither axles nor wheel springs.

1939—10 Years Ago

Great Britain's anti-aircraft defences were manned today against a make-believe "enemy" bombing raid in a spectacular prologue to full dress rehearsal of the nation's armed forces.

Europe's granaries are bulging with food, sufficient to last its armies and civilian population for many months, if war comes this autumn, a survey in Britain showed today.

Coal Industry Advised To Turn To Other Fields

STAN ROSS

At a casual glance, the coal mining industry is on the skids. It has priced itself out of the domestic market and out of the industrial market as well. As a fuel, it has difficulty in competing with gas and oil. It has many drawbacks because of the methods of handling it, because of ashes etc.

Yet in spite of these things coal is not on the way out, unless we are prepared to see it go.

There is not much justification for subsidizing coal production when there are so many other sources of heat available. It seems foolish to keep on buying something at a higher price simply for sentimental reasons when there are other local products that can compete so easily.

There is no point in using any product in an unsuitable manner, taking into account all the factors. But neither is there any point in stubbornly persisting in trying to use coal for something which is no longer suitable, when there are many other things for which it is still very suitable.

Recently it was announced that a plant was being opened for the manufacture of briquettes. Although an improvement it is still along the traditional lines.

But what about other uses?

Varied Uses

Coal can be used for an amazing variety of products. Chemical developments of the past 50 years have brought out a steadily growing list of products that can be manufactured from coal and which can command special prices. In fact some of these coal products have now become commercial essentials and the nations producing them have a distinct advantage in supplying a world market.

It must be remembered that this is a type of industry requiring large capital expenditure and it would be difficult for some of the smaller mining companies to finance such a project.

Yet it may come to that if the coal mining industry is to be saved. It would certainly be the height of folly to have billions of tons of coal underground in Alberta and not take advantage of the opportunity.

Necessity forced European nations to develop their coal resources far beyond the point of economy. In Germany they made products from coal where the same products could have been made from other materials at a lower cost.

They did that because they did not have the other raw materials. But even eliminating those items, there are thousands of other products in which coal is the best raw material and upon which huge industries have been built.

Safe to Say

In fact it is safe to say that Germany with over five times the population of Canada built one of the top industrial empires of her time on coal reserves considerably smaller than those of Alberta.

The Alberta coal situation is just the same old story. If you wish to use a product for a purpose which must be filled at a low price, then that is all you can expect to receive. If you wish to sell a product at a higher price, then it is necessary to turn that product into something that will command that higher price.

Apart from that, there is the interest of the province as a whole. Coal mining, as it goes at present, does employ a few thousand men. It does provide a few millions income. It does fill part of the industrial picture. But taken on the basis of what it could become, we have failed miserably to utilize this resource. Alberta oil is apparently in the billion dollar class.

This was only brought about by investing millions in developing it. With the same millions used to develop coal, Alberta could also have a billion dollar coal industry in addition to oil. It would take time.

But it could be done and we in Alberta should never permit our oil industry to blind us to the other equally valuable potentials which we hold.

Sleep Murdered By Night Chattering Of Three Females

SCOTT

Our younger daughter, Jill, has begun to talk in her sleep. If I am looking more haggard than usual this is the reason. In fact, I'm seriously contemplating pitching a small tent out in the back yard in my pursuit of a decent night's sleep.

Jill's contribution to my insomnia is small. She says only "bow wow" or "Jell-o" and not more than two, three times a night. It is just the cumulative effect that is driving the sand man from my door. As I intend explaining very shortly.

Perhaps I should explain, first, that I am a very light sleeper. Conditions must be just right. I have never been able to find sleep in a Pullman berth, for example. I was awake four years in the Army. Put me in a foreign bed and I lie there, owl eyes staring into the darkness.

Indeed it has taken me several years to get used to the shanty in which we live. Since the east side of the house began settling, as I believe I mentioned once before, all the doors and windows have been behaving in a most extraordinary manner. A slight whisp of a breeze will open the front door, causing two of the windows to slide slowly down and the back door to creak open. Sometimes one of the windows comes down hard, with a bang. This occasionally starts a fawcett dripping in the bathroom.

For over six months after I got out of the service and came home (and pretty badly in need of a nap, too) I lay awake night after night, up on one elbow, ears pricked up like a collie dog, listening to all this go on. Sheer exhaustion finally came to my rescue.

Now I find myself surrounded not merely by this obstreperous house, but by three females whose nocturnal clamoring is only a notch short of bedlam. I know you are going to think I just made this up, but nearly every word of it is gospel.

Some Dialogue

Brown Eyes has always been a night-time talker. It was one of the first unexpected aspects of matrimony I had to get used to. One night a week or so after we were married she turned to me at about 4 a.m. and said in a strong, clear voice: "They're burning all the leaves!" I looked about me wildly and it was hours before I calmed down.

By experiment I discovered that the only way to cut off this dream-world dialogue was to make some brisk remark that would, as it were, close the subject. After the remark about the leaves, for example, I might say, soothingly, "They're all burned now. Go to sleep." Or, if she would suddenly cry, "Watch out for the boat!" I would pat her and say, "It's gone now. Go to sleep."

Then as now, I preferred to work late at night. Invariably, my late arrival in the boudoir would provoke some startled comment from my wife such as "Watch out for that rake!" or "Never mind the rest of them!" (Two I happen to remember).

I found that the best way to stop this was to hiss, "It's only me, it's only me," when I entered the bedroom, but frequently this would cause our oldest daughter, Judy, to start broadcasting from her room. Judy is a mumbler. She says things like, "Brooble the fram, brooble the fram!" For some reason this makes me even more tense than my wife's running commentary.

One night when I was drowsy Judy said, "Brooble the fram" and I hissed at my wife, "Judy says brooble the fram."

"Put the lid on the water sprinkler," my wife said. "It's all right," I said, "The lid is on. Go to sleep."

You get a few conversations like this going and all that sash and door activity and I'm here to tell you sleep is elusive, mighty elusive.

Three-Way

I didn't know I had it so good until Jill decided to take after her mother. In our house or, for that matter, any house with beaverboard partitions—sounds from the adjoining rooms are not merely distinct, but have the effect of being magnified. And in these hot days we leave all the doors open—or they open themselves—and acoustics are just about perfect for the ladies, young and old.

What is sagging the bags under my eyes is the three-way hook-up that's now became a regular thing. This generally happens at precisely the moment I have sleep in my grasp. Then it starts.

"Bow, wow, bow, wow," says Jill. I raise my head.

Judy stairs restlessly in her bed. "Maddle widda fraw, maddle widda fraw," she mumbles. I am up on one elbow.

"Never mind the ice cream," my wife says, chuckling at some never-to-be-known joke. I am now sitting upright, head cocked.

"The ice cream is okay," I say. "Go to sleep."

FIRST WOMAN treasurer of the U.S., Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, was entrusted with the nation's wealth as she signs her name to a receipt worth $27,424,541,375.78 2/3. The sum represents the government's currency, cash and securities. Auditors certified the receipt down to the last two-thirds of a cent. Michael E. Slindee, acting-treasurer, watches her sign.

Exercise Eagle Shows Canada Defence Weak

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C., Aug. 8—(CP)—On the basis of what she showed in exercise eagle, Canada now could cope only with great difficulty any sizeable enemy seizure of a strategic point within her boundaries.

That was a general opinion today among reporters, majority of them veterans of former war correspondents, who covered this first test of the standing ground-air forces being prepared to meet any armed raid.

SEQUEL UNDER WAY

Even as 1,400 army and air force participants scattered, however, preparations were going forward for a sequel that indicates Canada would not be alone in defence of her terrain.

A larger exercise—North Star—will be unfolded farther up the Alaska highway in February with elements of the 82nd United States airborne division and American jet planes crossing into the Yukon to combine with Canadian forces.

There was the further consideration, too, that Canada's own plans call for enlargement and strengthening of the forces she would have ready. In those plans, Exercise Eagle now will play its part.

RESULTS RECEIVED

At the Edmonton headquarters of the Western Comamnds of both forces today, officers dug into the harvest of its results. Some of them encouraging, some to the reporters at least disturbing.

Its core was a Canadian counterattack against an enemy force that theoretically had seized Fort St. John's RCAF airfield, one of a strategic series of aerial stepping stones into the north known as the Northwest Staging Route.

It was designed as a check on training given the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, the country's first regular airborne battalion, on the RCAF in a support role and on staff work that first started six months ago.

The enemy was finally expelled but only after umpires had overruled certain developments.

FINE TRAINING

Both the army and air firce western chiefs—Maj. Gen. M. H. S. Penhale and Air Vice Marshal Hugh Campbell—called the three-day exercise "one of the best things that has happened to the forces since the war."

As an instrument for digging out flaws, it undoubtedly was. It gave a valuable operational impact to peacetime planning.

On the positive side, too, were the excellent showing of the Patricias, a young, relatively green battalion, brilliant flying of some regular RCAF pilots, the thorough preparations and conduct, the tremendous job of bringing in people thousands of miles by air, and the calibre of the officers and men.

Estevan Area Crop Outlook Best in Years

ESTEVAN, Sask., Aug. 8—(CP)—Farm combines rumbled down dusty country roads in the southeast corner of Saskatchewan today to golden wheat fields soon to be stripped.

The week-end's intensive heat—the mercury was over the 100-degree mark both Saturday and Sunday—has speeded ripening. Harvesting should be in full swing in the area late this week.

At last the perpetual fear of drought has been replaced by farmers' confidence of a good crop. And in this district noted chiefly as a coal-producing area, good crops have not been frequent.

PROSPECTS GOOD

One farmer said prospects pointed to one of the best yields in years for the whole southeast corner of the province, but he added, that depends on nothing going wrong.

There still is the danger of unpredictable hail—the incidence of hail danger increases with the heat—and further ravages by flying grasshoppers.

In Regina Agriculture Minister I. C. Nollet predicted that this year's crop "while not a big crop, looks like it will be as good or better than last year."

CROP IMPROVEMENT

He based his optimistic forecast on crop improvement during the last two weeks.

Last year this central prairie province produced the major share of the dominion's 393,300,000-bushel wheat crop.

This year Saskatchewan's 125,000 farmers seeded an estimated 15,641,000 acres of Canada's 27,500,000 wheat acreage.

NOT GENERAL

But good crops are not general over the province.

In the southwest and west central areas about 30,000 farmers will harvest little more than their seed and many will not get that.

While the southeast is good, best prospects are in the northeast and northwest where a goodly number of farmers will harvest crops which may make many forget "that big crop year back in 1915."

Florida Police Seek Killer

CRYSTAL BEACH, Fla., Aug. 8—(UP)—A killer was loose on the tourist-crammed Florida Gulf Coast today after stabbing an aged man so viciously that the knife broke off in his body.

Norman Young Browne, 75, a retired New Yorker was killed and his wife and another couple injured by the young man who went berserk yesterday afternoon.

Roads leading into the Pinellas Peninsula, and the long causeway across Tampa Bay, were blocked as state troopers and the police of coastal resorts moved in concerted action.

Police said that the blade of the curly-haired killer's knife broke off in Browne's side, in an assault that apparently took place as the victim lay tied to a bed. Mrs. Anna Browne, 60, was slashed and cruelly beaten.

Missionaries All Survive Ecuador 'Quake

TORONTO, Aug. 8—(CP)—W. R. Roberts of Toronto said yesterday he has received word from Quito, Ecuador, that all Protestant missionaries there are safe following a devastating earthquake.

Mr. Roberts said his son, Dr. Paul W. Roberts, and daughter-in-law are working in one of the earthquake-battered areas of Ecuador. A Toronto nurse, Miss Catherine Erb, and another Canadian couple, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook, were also reported safe.

Mr. Roberts said he received a short-wave message from radio station HCJB in Quito.

Insect Pests Now Target Of Chemical War Outfit

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Aug. 8.—(CP)—They've got a new version of the old adage about beating swords into plowshares at the Suffield experimental station, 30 miles northwest of here. They are switching from flame throwers to spray guns.

It's part of the conversion of the wartime testing base from research in chemical warfare to other projects including the use of chemicals in combatting prairie insect pests—grasshoppers, black flies, mosquitoes and warble flies.

The base, which covers a 6,000-acre tract, is located on what is known as the "British Block", an arid tract of bald prairie in southeastern Alberta.

Operations of the base were top secret during the war when it became the largest test station devoted to chemical warfare and allied fields in the democracies. The thunder of exploding shells and the drone of low-flying planes were the only clues civilians had as to what was going on.

Last year, aerial pest sprayings on mosquito larvae were carried out at the confluence of the Red Deer and South Saskatchewan rivers, and officials reported marked success.

This year, aerial spraying against grasshoppers was conducted in the Whitla, Alta., district, and the spread of these crop-devouring pests was said to have been materially reduced.

Another major study, far removed from war projects, which has been under way for a year in co-operation with the national research council, is rain-making by dropping carbon-dioxide dry ice on moisture-laden clouds. Several tests were made last summer with varied results, and the work is being continued this year.

The RCAF at Suffield co-operates in these experiments.

LITTLE OR NO sympathy was extended Johnny Aitken, centre, by Dan Podersky, left, and Jim Harper when Mayfair star scanned card for 'lost' stroke as trio compared notes following qualifying round in City Amateur at Municipal course yesterday. Podersky and Harper fired two-under-par 70's to lead qualifiers, with Aitken another stroke away.

Municipal Takes Beating As City Amateur Opens

GLENN GRAY
. . . Hot and cold.

"You drive for show but putt for dough" . . . goes the old 19th hole adage. And yesterday, as close to 100 shotmakers tore the Municipal layout apart in the qualifying round of the annual City amateur golf tournament, a missed putt here and there along the way loomed large at the finish in many cases.

Take, for example, the spot in which Danny Podersky, former Muny king, and Jim Harper, current 'teen-age comer found themselves.

Podersky and Harper each shot a two-under-par 70 to deadlock for low qualifying honors. In the inevitable clubhouse post-mortems both could remember a flubbed six-footer or two that had cost them their chance to establish an uncontested claim to qualifying honors.

Then there was a group of fellows who had fired 79's and failed to make the championship flight. Included were Jim Hogan, former Canadian junior champion, Leo LeClair, Doug Kilburn (once - upon - a - time perennial Country Club champion) and Bud Marquardt.

What each of them wouldn't have done for another crack at several putts that failed to go down!

And so it went. Generally speaking Percy Earle had the Muny course in grand shape. But players from other courses found they had something to learn about the greens at the city-owned layout.

99 PLAYERS START

Near perfect weather greeted the largest outpouring for amateur honors since the war. Total of 99 players teed off and all but a half dozen toughed it out to the end.

In shooting his 70 Podersky put together nines of 34-36. Harper reversed the procedure, 36-34. Latter's putter gradually warmed up and he knocked in a number of healthy putts while racking up three-under-par figures for the back nine.

Podersky, well aware at the time that he had a good chance to be low qualifier, three-putted the long 520-yard 13th. However he birdied the next hole to get back the stroke.

Closely following Podersky and Harper was Johnny Aitken, former champion at Prince Rupert and Mayfair clubs. Aitken, who learned his golf in Calgary, finished with 71.

Grouped at even par (72) were Vern Mohs, defending champion, Emerson Mack, Bill Gostick, finalist in the provincial amateur in 1947, and large Ken Jennings, Highlands' club champion.

GRAY HOT AND COLD

Glenn Gray, long-hitting Mayfairite who won the Alberta amateur at Calgary six weeks ago, had a few anxious moments and wound up with 75. Gray blew hot and cold by turns.

List of qualifiers for the championship flight reads like a 'Who's Who' of city golf circles. In addition to those mentioned others who fired 78 or better to crash the select circle included Lloyd Greer, Burns Martell, Art New, junior champion Frank Fowler, Johnny Letke, Mike Zeweniuk, John McDonald, Ted West and Jack Meldrum.

Match play will open immediately and continue throughout the week.

STEVENSON 'FINDS' SHIRT, LAUGHS BEST

He who laughs last, laughs best . . . or something.

Just ask Doug Stevenson, Cubs' catcher.

Recently it was suggested in this sheet that Stevenson, along with Ross Kortgard, Esk snubber, had "lost his shirt." Suggestion was prompted when, in a Cubs-Esks clash, total of 20 bases were stolen.

And Saturday Stevenson had his innings. During the course of the Cubs-Calgary Puritys encounter a parcel was delivered to Stevenson on the Cub bench.

Opened, it proved to contain an attractive sports shirt. Sender did not bother to enclose a card.

Diving Queen Enters Gala

Audrey Turner, Canadian senior ladies' three-meter springboard diving champion (yet) will compete in the provincial swimming and diving splash meet at Vegreville Wednesday.

Approximately 65 swimmers will be entered from Edmonton and district. Calgary expects to send 29.

Joan McDonnell, just back from competing in the British Empire Games trials in Vancouver as a junior, will also make the trip. All winners at the recent Wrigley swims, Sylvan Lake, are scheduled to be on hand.

The one-day show, under auspices of Alberta section of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, will be divided into two sections in the afternoon and evening.

Twenty-one events will be run off in the afternoon while 22 are scheduled for the evening round-up. Feature event will be the men's 35-yard relay for Herschorn Cup. Pool, standard in size, has been equipped with flood-lights for the evening show.

Only four of the 43 events are restricted to members of the Vegreville club. First event starts at two o'clock.

Legion Shades Vets To Gain Soccer Final

North Side Legion won the Northern Alberta semi-finals of Alberta Football playdowns Saturday night, defeating Anavets 2-1 in a sudden-death soccer game at Clarke Stadium.

Dave Gillings gave Legion a 1-0 lead in the first half, scoring at 25 minutes on a penalty shot. Shortly after the second half opened, Arnie Moore took a cross from Bob Graham and picked the lower corner. Denny Birmingham sank Anavets lone counter moments later when he picket the ball up near centre and raced in alone.

Legion now meets RCAF at Clarke Stadium Wednesday in the northern final.

Yesterday, in an exhibition game, Ukrainia scored four times in 12 minutes as they stopped RCAF 5-2. Airmen opened in the first half with one counter while holding Ukrainia off the score sheet. Winners tied the score at start of the second half, but RCAF came back fast for another goal to take the lead.

Then came the four "quickies", Moroz squared matters on a penalty shot and Tateshyn scored what proved to be the winner moments later.

Hawkey Adds Insult To Injury By Tossing 1-Hitter At Purity

Leave us face it . . . the Big Four Baseball league no longer justifies its name. More exactly it's the Big TWO league, considering the trend of events over the past two weeks.

Long since the Calgary entries—Puritys and Buffs—have been distanced. Only Cubs and Esks of "our town" have any real stake in the race for first place.

MORRIE HAWKEY
. . . Nifty one-hitter.

WALT GULLY
. . . Purity bossman.

With three weeks remaining of the regular season Cubs have a three-game edge on second-place Esks. Puritys and the hapless Buffs are nowhere.

'KEY' ACTION

All of which means that the games coming up at Renfrew Park between the pair of local entries in president Sam Irwin's circuit, represent whatever 'key' action will be presented from here until the curtain comes down, Aug. 31.

Cubs and Esks are scheduled to clash eight more times between now and the playoffs. So far they have cut up 24 games exactly in half, 12 wins to Cubs, as many to the Hotelmen.

It's been like half-past six with these clubs as concerns their own personal meetings.

Cubs and Esks are billed to go at it again at Renfrew tomorrow night. Cubs' manager Les Edwards will send righthander Bob Stuart after 'Captain' Morgan's gang. In all likelihood latter will toss Ed (Lefty) Belter into the fray.

Indications are that the biggest week-night crowd of the season to this point will be in the pews.

While Esks were picknicking in Calgary at the expense of Buffs at the week-end, Cubs were busy at Renfrew turning back Puritys, two games to one.

Yesterday afternoon, as Cubs edged the Oilers, 1-0, Morrie Hawkey shaded 'Lefty' Bill Whyte, Purity star, in one of the finest pitching duels in the history of the park.

Hawkey gave up a solitary hit, a whistling single to centre in the fifth from the war-club of left-fielder Neil Kelly. Otherwise it was three up, three down most of the way.

Puritys threatened in the ninth when an error at short and a free ticket to first put a pair of Calgary runners on the paths for the only time during the Sabbath contest. However, sandwiched between Jack Hobson's bobble and the base-on-balls to Walt Gully, Hawkey fanned the dangerous Choukalos and then snuffed out the belated threat by making Ernie Beland loft to right field.

ONE-TWO PUNCH

Cubs scored the lone run of the tense struggle in the third frame. Reg Clarkson's two-bagger, followed by Jim Ryan's sharp single to left, turning the trick.

In all Cubs came up with but three hits off Whyte's offerings. It was Hawkey's eighth triumph against six losses. Whyte now is 13-7.

Sharply contrasting with yesterday's evenly waged encounter were the pair of games served up Saturday by the same squads.

Cubs thumped Puritys (catcher Choukalos was on the mound for the visitors) 15-2 in the afternoon, showed an amazing reversal of form to drop the nightcap by 17-2.

Slim John McManus slow-curved the Puritys to death in the opener, holding them to five hits. On the other hand Cubs, who don't have much trouble hitting most of the regular Purity hurlers, showed even less respect for catcher-turned-moundsman Choukalos. They tagged the young Greek for 18 hits, including Clarkson's 10th home run of the campaign.

Oddly, the four-master over the right field wall in the second inning broke a tie for first place between Clarkson and Choukalos in the home-run derby.

In the nightcap Cub throwers—Paul Peterson, who started, Alex Omelus and Al Purvis—served up a total of 22 bases-on-balls. Peterson agaonized (as did Cub supporters) through three and two-third innings, gave up 11 free passes, four hits and 10 runs. Omelus, who succeeded him, had little more success. Finally Purvis made the long trek from the bull-pen to bring order out of chaos—more or less.

Puritys, on the other hand, got a good pitching chore out of side-armer Arnie Fernandez. Cubs had chased Fernandez in less than five innings the night before but he had their number this time.

Motormen got their only runs in the second stanza on hits by Ryan, Anderson and Doug Stevenson.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER: ELSEY TO SIGN

Earl Elsey will be signed today by Edmonton's footballing Eskimos, according to manager Al Anderson. Elsey, a running halfback from Los Angeles, had previously been announced as the first player to join the Eskimos.

Anderson also announced last night that the Esks are dickering with two eastern linemen. It was also disclosed that an attempt was made last month to secure Dean Bandiera, former Queen's University guard, whose signing by Saskatchewan Roughriders was nanounced last Saturday.

North Shore Triumphs 4-0

CALGARY, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Sparked by the brilliant goal-keeping of Frank Ashdown, North Shore United, Vancouver, Saturday night overwhelmed speedy Hamilton Westinghouse eleven 4-0 in the opening game of the dominion soccer finals.

Second game of the best-of-three series will be played here tonight.

Ashdown shared the spotlight with North Shore United's stylish centre forward, Fred Whittaker. Whittaker scored the only goal of the opening half and added two more in the second half. Dick Acaster got the other, less than a minute after he had taken the field to replace Frank Ambler.

Better finish around the net and the experience of the West Coast's veteran players provided North Shore with the winning margin over their lighter and faster opponents. Tricky footwork gave them repeated close-in shots on goal, while Hamilton appeared to have difficulty solving the Vancouver back line. When they did, Ashdown came through with sensational saves to hold the eastern Canadians at bay.

Leafs Steal Cub, Purity Thunder

Maple Leaf Athletic club baseball teams were to the fore prior to start of yesterday's Purity-Cubs game at Renfrew Park.

Leaf midget and juvenile aggregations, recently crowned city champions in their respective divisions, were presented with trophies, emblematic of their titles.

Leafs, with captain Bill Dea stepping forward in the name of himself and teammates, received the Ted Sharum trophy from the donor. As well individual awards went to each member of the squad.

Bob Kramer, prominent sportsman, presented John Lupul, captain of the juveniles, with their trophy.

Calder, S.S. Take Lead

Calder and South Side won juvenile baseball playoff games at South Side Athletic Grounds yesterday.

Games were the first in best-of-three series for the right to move into northern semi-finals. Second games in both rounds are scheduled for tomorrow night.

Pitchers highlighted the victories. Lakeman halted Jasper Place on three hits as his Calder mates coasted to a 13-2 win. South Side's Danny Lochan hurled a one-hitter at EAC Cloverdales for a 3-0 triumph. Lochan struck out 11.

R. Trepanier and R. Kanasewich socked home runs for Calder in a 13-hit attack on two Jasper Place pitchers.

Stott, Like Water Tap, Runs Hot and Cold

You can never tell how tennis titlist Johnny Stott will play. He's liable to be as warm as a summer's day in the tropics, then again he can be as cold as a landlord's heart the day after rent controls have been lifted.

The provincial champion took on Thompson in the first round of the men's singles as play opened at the week-end in the annual Civil Service club tournament.

And did Stott, as befits a champion, ride roughshod over Thompson? He did not.

In fact the redhead was hard pressed to turn in a 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 victory. Thompson, obviously unimpressed by the fact that he ha ddrawn Alberta's No. 1 star as the curtain went up, stuck close all the way to come within an ace of turning in the big upset of the season.

Among others to advance in the men's singles event were Bill Logan, Bob Cameron, George Docherty, Alf Ingall and Stan Copp.

Sophie Mighall, Helen Carr, Cal Holmgren and the Forrester sisters, Barbara and Marj, scored wins in ladies' singles play.

Esks Clean Up On Hapless Buffs

CALGARY, Aug. 8.—Manager Ralph Morgan's smooth-fielding Edmonton Eskimos made a clean sweep of their four-game week-end series by humbling Calgary Buffs 9-5 in the night-cap of a Sunday twin-bill before 2,400 Big Four Baseball league fans.

Esks won the afternoon game 9-2 and took the Saturday contest by a 5-1 margin. Edmonton won the series opener Friday, 12-7.

The sweep moved second place Eskimos a full game closer to the league-leading Edmonton Cubs, who won three and lost one to Calgary Purity in Edmonton.

Potent bat of right fielder Cliff Johnston, who hit safely three times in four official trips to the plate and batted in three runs, provided Esks with the victory spark last night.

It took Edmonton just one inning to clinch the Sunday afternoon game. Esks exploded for six runs in the first inning and coasted to victory the rest of the way behind Bob Peterson's three-hit hurling.

Eskimos also got off to a flying start in the Saturday contest. They scored in the first inning and added singletons in the second, eighth and ninth.

The Man Took A Loud Seven

All things considered the picturesque fourth at Municipal is no part of a tough golf hole. Granted a junior ravine runs across 100 feet in front of the tee and the fairway along the left drops off almost sheer into the river.

But it's only 295 yards to the pin, as a golf ball travels when properly hit, and the green is so trapped that just a little manoeuvering is sufficient to keep a fellow clear of trouble.

In other words your low handicap star figures to make a little hay at the fourth. Birdies are commonplace.

Not that you could prove it by the way Glenn Gray, provincial titlist, played the hole yesterday in the qualifying round of the City Amateur.

Gray, one of the longest, and at times, wildest hitters in the history of golf in these parts, helped himself to a loud seven on the par four strip.

How? Simply by hooking a pair of tee shots into the river, then coming through with a 'birdie' on his third ball, just when it looked like he might have to send to the club-house for an adding machine or more balls.

"Boy, did I blow that one?" the big fellow laughed about it later. He certainly had.

The 13th Was His 'Erster'

In typical Gray fashion he did an about-face later at the 520-yard up-the-hill 13th. A booming tee shot carried the road, close to 300 yards away, and a well-played two iron saw him to within seven feet of the stick

He promptly canned the putt for an eagle three.

However this hot, cold approach to the problem of the moment saw Gray wind up with a three-over-par 75. He qualified with something to spare. But he was five strokes off the pace as cut out by Danny Podersky and young Jim Harper.

More and more Harper, a member of Alberta's Willingdon cup team, looks like the city's amateur golfer of the future. The pressure doesn't seem to bother him and he's gradually picking up the experience every young buck requires to realize on his possibilities.

Podersky was frankly amazed at his success, and not that he hasn't shot his share of sub-par golf at Muny over the years. But he hasn't played much this season.

"Just can't explain it," he admitted with a grin. "I generally tighten up when I'm not playin' regularly. Not today, though."

The Podersky putter went sour in one or two spots over on the back nine or the former Muny champion might have had it all to himself at the finish.

The 79's Didn't Get In

Generally speaking scoring was good, considering that big Jim Hogan, semi-finalist in the 1946 Canadian amateur, and two or three other aspirants to the championship flight fired 79's and failed to catch a bracket.

Mayfair's Johnny Aitken of the compact swing took the first nine apart for a nifty 33, stringing together six fours and half as many threes. When he went around the turn in company with Ted West and Ken Jennings hopes were high that he might grab himself off a 66 or 67.

However the greens took their toll in the stretch. Aitken three-putted at the 12th and 14th, just failed to get down a long one at the last hole. He had to settle for a 71, a short nose away from Podersky and Harper.

If you can laugh away the oft-repeated remark that "the greens are kinda grainy," visiting competitors, whether from Highlands, Mayfair or Country Club, were loud in their praise of the condition of the city-owned layout.

Not for nothing is it said that Edmonton has close to the finest Municipal course in the Dominion.

CNR Manager May Regret Kind Gesture

A month ago CNR manager Lou Hiatt voted in favor of issuing a new Junior Baseball league franchise to South Side Athletics after several South Siders rejected manager Mervin Miller's wish to withdraw from the loop.

In so doing Hiatt may have ruined his club's chances of winning the junior championship because with the hard-hitting Athletics out of the way CNR was head and shoulders above the rest of the junior crowd.

S.S. WIN 7-4

Saturday night at Clarke Stadium Hiatt might have had cause to regret his move. For South Side whipped CNR 7-4 in the second game of the best-of-five final to go ahead 1-0. First game finished in scoreless tie Friday night.

Third game of the round is scheduled for Clarke Stadium tonight at 6:45 and the fourth is billed for Wednesday.

Second baseman Denny Smith, playing his last year in junior company, was the big noise for the winners yesterday. He clouted a three-run homer off relief pitcher Bud Bacon in the fourth inning to give South Side a 6-4 lead. CNR was never in contention following the Smith sock.

After a shaky beginning, right-handed Hal Forss, on the Athletic mound, handcuffed CNR batters. They touched him for four runs and six hits—including Wally Urliak's home run—in the first two innings. He settled down then to limit the freight crew to two hits over the remaining six frames.

CNR scored once in the first and three times in the second. South Siders retaliated with one run in the second before erupting for five in the fourth. In this winning drive Hiatt elected to replact starting pitcher Doug Dodd with Bacon after one was out, one run in, and one man on base.

The move was costly. Before Bacon got the side out Al Bryant singled to drive in the third South Side run. Orest Siogryn reached first on an error, and Smith unloaded the aforesaid home run.

Bacon was tough enough after that, but the one lapse proved enough to give Athletics the verdict.

BUD WARD TOPS BILL MAWHINNEY

TRAIL, B.C., Aug. 8.—(CP)——Marvin (Bud) Ward, Spokane divot-digger shooting professionally out of Great Falls, Mont., for the second time copped the $500 Trail-Rossland fourth annual open with a sizzling 11-under-par score of 205 for the 54-hole tourney yesterday.

Ward fired 18 birdies, 29 pars and seven bogies to outclass Vancouver's Bill Mawhinney, just about the hottest amateur golfer in Canada, by 15 strokes. Mawhinney had a 220 for the six trips over the tricky nine-hole, par-36 layout.

Legion Squads In Ball Playoffs

Edmonton Legion branches battled in the first phase of the northern Alberta intermediate men's fastball wars yesterday at South Side Athletic Grounds. The South Side branch finally won the day 5-2 over the Norwood branch.

Second game of the best-of-three semi-final is billed for Kingsway Park tomorrow night. Winner of the round will meet Canada Packers for the northern crown.

South Side scored once in the first inning on successive doubles by pitcher Chuck Sheehan and left fielder Herb Gosche. They added singletons in the sixth and eighth and a pair in the seventh before Norwood counted twice in the ninth.

Gosche, Sheehan and Benny Meketti each collected two base knocks for the winners.

Westlock Twice Socks Texaco Club

Takes Big Lead in Senior B Final; Leduc Triumphs

Westlock capped Texaco Oilers 11-3 and 7-5 in a Senior "B" baseball doubleheader at Clarke Stadium yesterday. The twin victories give Westlock a 2-0 bulge in the best-of-five northern Alberta playoffs.

GUS EMBERG
. . . Catches capably.

Series continues at Westlock next Sunday. Winner of the round will advance against Cadomin, who won a scheduled best-of five series from Lovett Coal Kings by default.

LEDUC WINS

Elsewhere on the Senior B front Sunday Leduc trounced Rochester 16-11 in the first of a best-of-five game round at Leduc. This series moves to Rochester next Sunday.

Texaco Oilers would have been better off searching for oil in the first match Sunday. Westlock pitcher Bert Shanks limited them to five hits and struck out seven. Oilers committed eight costly errors on the defense.

A seven-run surge in the eighth inning accounted for the Westlock win. Singles by Hindmarck, Kinsella and Boyd, a double by Shanks, plus a walk and two Texaco fumbles, accounted for this rally.

The teams battled through 12 innings in the second fixture before Westlock broke a 5-5 tie. Score was deadlocked 2-2 after nine regulation innings and remained snarled 5-5 when both clubs scored three times in the 11th.

REAL OLD TIMER

Second sacker Slim Harper, who claims to be 50 years old, and Wilson hit singles for Westlock in the top of the twelfth. Those safeties, coupled with Texaco bungles at shortstop and third base, produced the tie-breaking runs.

The visitors, made up of ball players from places like Riviere Qui Barre, Barrhead, Morinville—and Westlock—got steady pitching from Shanks and Jack Wilson. At one stage in second game Wilson struck out seven straight Oiler batsmen.

The Emberg brothers performed capably for the losers, Gus catching the first game while Wally pitched the 12-inning marathon. Mac Kennedy hit three singles in nine times at bat to lead the Oiler hit parade.

Barrhead Tops Bruderheim 7-1

BARRHEAD, Aug. 8.—Barrhead defeated Bruderheim 7-1 here yesterday in the first game of a best-of-three northern Alberta junior baseball playoff. Remainder of the series will be played at Bruderheim next Sunday.

Winner of the series will play Camrose in a best-of-five semi-final series. Cadomin Legionnaires and Edmonton open the other semi-final round at Edmonton, August 14.

STURDY JIM PURDY
. . . Wins Tough Race.

Twins Finish in Bike Dead Heat

Some twins are identical, even to the point of dressing alike. But Edmonton's Wilson twins were even closer than that yesterday as the Silver Hawk Cycle club held its first race of the season, a 25-mile jaunt.

There was hardly a hair between Roger and Bruce Wilson as they streaked across the finish line to tie for third place in the grind from the South Side to Nisku and return.

PURDY TO FORE

But, as usual, it was Jim Purdy who pumped to victory. Purdy, although pressed to the wire, beat out Bill Kasling, of speed skating fame, to win by a wheel.

Ted Clegg finished fifth. Then came Paul Smith, Link Moore, Hugh Goodman, Bob Hyde and John McVeigh among the leaders. Purdy, who placed sixth in the 50-mile championships at Winnipeg recently, toured the course yesterday in one hour, six minutes and 43 seconds.

MORE SURPRISES

Moore, a darkhorse who borrowed a striped down wheel just prior to the race, pulled the surprise of the race. With about eight miles to go Moore pulled a spurt that gave him a two mile lead. Purdy and other 'veterans' were forced to go all out before overtaking the fleet Moore.

Carl Cunningham suffered with the cramps but managed tofinish.

Clerk of the course was Bill Watson and starter and timekeeper was Roy Haliburton. Racers had an RCMP patrol, but heavy traffic slowed the pace down.

IT'S ALL-STAR TIME IN BIG FOUR LEAGUE

Personnel of the Bulletin's second annual Big Four Baseball league team will be made known this week.

Players make the selections and members of all teams ware busy at the week-end marking the ballots.

Team consists of the regular complement of infielders and outfielders, a catcher, two right-handed pitchers, as many southpaws, and a utility man.

Players are not permitted to vote for teammates.

Geary To Fight Salt Lake Battler

Boxing promoter Jack Berry announced last night that Benny Geary of Wildwood and Bill Siebra, from Salt Lake City, Utah, will battle in the main event on his August 15 boxing card at the Stock Pavilion.

The bout will be a welterweight affair over the 10-round distance.

Kid Leon, Salt Lake, and Jim Ego, Edmonton, are scheduled in a re-match in the semi-windup. Leon captured an eight-round decision from the Edmonton scrapper last month.

Leon and Siebra left Salt Lake last night and are due to arrive here tomorrow. They will work out daily at the YMCA boxing gymn.

Filly Dandyilly A Little Chilly

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Calumet farm's Bewitch, queen of the United States' fillies as a juvenile two years ago, Saturday charged to a half-length victory over Dandilly in the $28,200 Misty Isle handicap at Washington Park. Third place went to Stole.

Waterous Wallops Woodland 21-7

Waterous walloped Woodlands 21-7 to take a one-game lead in their best-of-three semi-finals in the B section of the intermediate A fastball league at South Kingsway yesterday.

In sudden-death playoff to decide first place in the A section, Haywards trimmed Edmonton Transit System 9-5.

Pitcher Len Goulet and Red Lundeen clouted home runs as Waterous collected 18 base hits, while Harold Mede socked a similar hit for Woodlands.

Tonight, at South Kingsway, Army and Fire Department open the other semi-final round in B section, starting time 6:30 o'clock.

Automobile 'Spiel Entries Come In

Entries continue to come in for Edmonton's first car bonspiel, to be staged by Associated Commercial Travellers, Oct. 31-Nov. 5.

Latest well known skips to indicate an intention to be on hand when the firing starts are Bob Munro, Calgary, W. D. Harper, Dawson Creek, and Bill Gray, prominent member of Edmonton's Granite rink.

Henry Hot, Raps Pupil

When the teacher plays the pupil in any kind of game, it's usually the former who comes out on top. And so it was yesterday at Highlands Golf course in an Eaton trophy match when Henry and Burns Martell defeated Jim Harper and Buddy Loftus, latter assistant to Henry at Highlands, 2 and 1.

Henry shot a three-under-par 67, while brother Burns turned in a 76. Loftus played in even par figures for a 70, while Harper, who tied for the lead in the City Amateur qualifying round at Municipal earlier in the day, shot a 71.

Eddie Wiseman, former member of Boston Bruins of the National Hockey league, will team with Dave Dixon, Red Deer pro, next Sunday against the Martells.

Legion's Heavy Swat Brigade Halts Singers

Legionnaires had too many heavy bats for one man to cope with yesterday, and as a result Singers lost a senior men's fastball game, 12-6.

Stu McCaskill's first-inning home run gave an indication of things to come. Catcher Al Miller followed with a line-drive double into left field.

Singers, however, grabbed the lead in the first inning with three runs. They were down 6-3 in the fourth when a rally netted another three tallies. Jack Davies then scored what proved to be the winning run in the fifth frame, romping home on a passed ball.

In the opener, Burns went an extra inning before edging South Side 6-5 in a Senior Ladies' fixture. Winners came up with a two-run rally in the last of the seventh to tie the score. A pair of errors and two hits pushed the deciding run across before the South Siders could retire a batter in the eighth inning.

WINS GARNEAU CROWN

Ol' Harry Kinloch Up to Old Tricks

Veteran Harry Kinloch "ain't" what he used to be on the tennis courts. But yesterday the seven times men's city singles champion was still good enough to win that event in the Garneau club's annual tournament, dethroning defending champion Jack McIlveen 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Kinloch had a tougher time with Jack Thorburn in the semi-finals. Score was 6-3, 6-4, 6-3. McIlveen had a rough time, too, with Les McManus in their semi-final tussle before emerging with a 6-0, 4-6, 7-5, 1-6, 6-2 triumph.

Photogenic Lois Tweed breezed to the ladies' single title with a 6-3, 6-1 conquest over Irma McManus. Miss Tweed subdued Nellie McClung 4-6, 6-4, 7-5 in the semi-finals while Mrs. McManus defeated Peggy Molloy 6-4, 9-7 to earn a berth in the finals.

McIlveen and Ken Grierson qualified for the finals in men's doubles at the week-end, whipping Murray Stewart and Harry Holmes 6-1, 6-1, 6-2. The Kinlochs—pop Harry and son Dave—have qualified for the semi-final bracket opposite the McManus-[illegible] duo.

The Kinlochs came from behind to defeat Wright-Davies 3-6, 7-5, 6-1 Saturday, while McManus-Davies easily vanquished the junior combination of Freddie Windwick and Derek Batcheller, 6-3, 6-3.

Cards, Bums Tied For Top

NL Race Tight As Harp-String While Yankees Gain In AL

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(CP)—St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers are tied for first place in the National League and New York Yankees are 5½ games ahead of the runner-up Cleveland Indians in the American as a result of week-end games.

Burt Shotton's Dodgers won two and lost one while Cardinals were winning one and losing one, permitting Brooklyn to gain the tie.

In the American league the Indians lost three games while Yankees were winning two. New York thus increased its lead from three to 5½ games.

Yankees crushed St. Louis Browns 20-2 in the first half of Sunday's doubleheader but the Brownies rallied to hold the league leaders in a 2-2 tie in the second game called after 10 innings because of darkness.

BIG GUNS EXPLODE

Phil Rizzuto paced Yanks' opening game assault against five St. Louis pitchers with four hits. Yogi Berra chipped in with his 16th home run and Joe DiMaggio batted home four runs on a double and pair of singles.

Berra, one of four Yanks to be hit by a pitched ball, suffered a broken thumb on his left hand and will be lost to the club for three weeks.

Meanwhile Philadelphia Athletics were giving Cleveland's pennant hopes a severe jolt. After beating the Indians Saturday, Philadelphia took both ends of a Sunday doubleheader from the American league champions 5-4 and 4-2. In the first game Elmer Valo homered for the A's. Manager Lou Boudreau and Allie Clark clouted round-trippers for Cleveland in the second.

In other American league games Sunday Detroit Tigers beat Boston Red Sox 6-4 while Washington Senators and Chicago White Sox split a doubleheader, Washington winning 1-0 and Chicago 4-1. At Boston righthander Art Houtteman celebrated his 22nd birthday by pitching the Tigers to victory. Dom DiMaggio bunted safely, extending his consecutive-game hitting streak to 34.

HOMERS TELL TALE

In the National loop Brooklyn killed off Cincinnati Reds with homers. Round-trippers by Jackie Robinson, Bruce Edwards and Johnny (Spider) Jorgensen drove in eight of nine Brooklyn runs as the Dodgers swept a doubleheader, 7-0 and 2-1.

At St. Louis, four New York errors, plus Red Munger's seven-hit pitching, gave Cardinals a 9-2 victory over the Giants.

Both Cardinals and Dodgers lost Saturday, Giants beating St. Louis 3-1, Cincinnati defeating Brooklyn 5-2.

At Pittsburgh the Pirates were beaten twice by the Philadelphia Phillies. Phils took the opener 7-3 and then won the nightcap 5-4 when Dick Sisler clouted a three-run pinch homer in the ninth inning.

At Chicago, Boston Braves snapped their five-game losing streak when they crushed Cubs 11-0 in the opener. Cubs bounced back to take the nightcap 4-3 in 10 innings.

Business Outlook Improved In U.S.

Survey Shows Bankers Still Wary Of Deflationary Trend

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(UP)—Government financial experts and private bankers cautiously agreed today that business appears to be looking up. But only a few thought that the post-inflation "readjustment" trend is over yet.

A top federal official, closely allied with the financial world, belived that the attitude of businessmen toward merchandising will go far in determining the economic future.

He said he believes that several factors which have caused this year's downturn will continue to operate, offsetting some of the bullish trends which have turned up in recent weeks.

HOPEFUL OUTLOOK

This same official, however, said his informal talks with businessmen during the past month have turned up "a significant change" in attitude on this issue. He was hopeful, but he was very cautious in his optimism.

But 1,000 bankers who replied last week to a questionnaire distributed by Washington Bank Trends, a weekly newsletter, were even less optimistic about the future.

Fifty-nine of them foresaw a predominant trend of "uncertainty and hesitancy" in financial circles during the next three months.

DEFLATION SEEN

More than one-fourth said deflationary forces will dominate, and an almost equal number thought the readjustment period will ease off.

The bankers expressed varying opinions on what factors are now most predominant in affecting the economic future. But many noted three factors as being especially important. They were government fiscal policies, the foreign situation and the 1949 wage pattern.

One banker replied that "considerable deflationary action has taken place in the non-durable consumer goods field within the past 18 months, and this same problem must be faced in the consumer durables between now and the middle of 1950."

Another said "the action of Great Britain in consummating bilateral treaties and forcing as much as possible the various British commonwealths to buy and sell directly with Great Britain will have an unfavorable effect on American business.

"In fact," he said, "I believe that this is what really started our depression of the thirties."

INFLUENCING FACTORS

Meanwhile there were these other economic developments:

1. The CIO United Electrical Workers accused the government of underestimating July's peak unemployment by 1,800,000. It claimed there were actually 5,900,000 persons out of work instead of the 4,095,000 reported by the census bureau.

2. The labor department's women's division announced it is making a study in 10 cities to find how much part-time work is available for women.

3. The Census Bureau reported that the American people shouldered the heaviest tax burden in history last year. Federal, state and local taxes totalled $54,500,000,000, an average of $372 per person. The previous high was $53,000,000,000 set in 1945.

4. Chairman Thomas B. McCabe of the Federal Reserve system, proposed that Congress ease taxes on corporations and wealthier persons as a means to boost production and prevent a depression. He also suggested that Congress review the tax structure and that more people be persuaded to invest in sound business.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Ingrid Bergman's announcement that she will retire from films has been duplicated in Hollywood history—but not often.

Actors die hard. Stars seldom abandon the silver screen as long as there are people who want to see them. Many movie "retirements" have been involuntary—by stars who have made their pile and would rather quit before sliding to the bottom of the ladder.

This is not true of Bergman. In last year's popularity polls, she was still the No. 1 film actress, despite a couple of unsuccessful pictures. If she stays retired—which many people here doubt—she will be passing up a possible salary of $20,000 a week.

Most recent examples of a film retirement is Fred Astaire. He became just plain tired of dreaming up new dance routines and quit after "Blue Skies." But a couple of years later he regained his enthusiasm. He recently said he is "through retiring."

ONE THAT STUCK

A few stars have retired and made it stick. Jane Bryan, a rising young acrtess, quit films to marry drug magnate Justin Dart. Her friends doubted that she would stay out of films for long. But they were wrong.

Montreal-born Norma Shearer stopped making movies in 1941. She had made a couple of bad films and chose to devote her life to her family.

Greta Garbo retired in 1941, but that was largely due to loss of the European market. About half of the profits from her films came from abroad. She will soon start a new film in Europe.

Ramon Novarro, the great screen lover of his day, was earning $10,000 a week when he retired 12 years ago. Novarro came back to pictures in recent weeks, as a character actor.

Toronto-born Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., retired gradually in the 30's. They were still box-office names, but never hit the peaks of their silent days.

Dolores Costello left pictures when she married John Barrymore. When their marriage broke up, she made a comeback. Harold Lloyd never announced his retirement, although he was off the screen for more than a decade. Now he is back before the public.

Practice Makes Perfect...

Yes, the old proverb applies to planned saving too! The persistent practice of systematic saving strengthens your defences against all that is unpredictable in life . . . helps to make your plans for the future.

Few things confer such benefits as the practice—the habit of saving. It creates a growing self-confidence. It opens up opportunities that would never be yours, but for cash in the Bank.

For nearly a hundred years The Bank of Toronto has helped men and women save by helping them to plan their savings to their own best advantage. With time, planned saving becomes so easy that it's almost automatic. It may seem difficult to begin saving but even though the start be small the essential thing is to make that important first deposit.

We invite you to begin the practice of saving the easy way—with the friendly aid of The Bank of Toronto.

EDMONTON BULLETIN

ENJOYING EDMONTON'S sun in course of Alberta tour are Samuel P. Cromie, right, vice-president of Vancouver Sun and Himie Koshevoy, his managing editor. As part owner of largest newspaper west of Toronto, Mr. Cromie is particularly interested in Edmonton area's oil and Alberta natural gas exports as they affect economy of his own province.

Thorny 35-Year Problem May Be Solved Tonight

Crucial battle in Edmonton's 35-year war promises to break at tonight's council meeting.

Report of the special civic center committee will be presented, and council will be urged to reach an early decision on location of various buildings, especially the market building.

Its site must be settled quickly so work on it can begin before start of wrecking of the present building to make way for the new federal building next spring.

Authorized by council at its June 20 meeting, the special committee, composed of representatives of council, Town Planning Commission and the People's Committee on the Auditorium, met four days later. After comprehensive study of the whole matter, the body will recommend tonight that:

1. The communications building be placed on the north-east corner of the civic center in such a position that it will not interfere with changing of the avenue in front of CNR depot.

2. The new market building be located across 103 avenue three lots east of 101 street, with a green strip maintained between the parking area and the market on 100 street.

3. The auditorium be placed on the Civic Center, its location to be determined "by the erection or otherwise of the new Glenton hotel," and provided with sufficient grounds for landscaping and park development.

PLANS COMPLETE

"It is important that council come to a decision as early as possible because of the necessity for beginning work on the market building previous to wrecking of the present building," says Mayor H. D. Ainlay.

Tentative plans for a new market are being drawn up by City Architect Max Dewar, so that no time may be lost when a location is decided.

Demolition of the present building will have to get underway soon because the Dominion government has agreed to start construction on the site of a new federal building by April 1, with a possible extension to May 1 depending how fast the city is able to cope with demolition.

These circumstances may force a quick decision, and put an end to 35 years of indecisive bickering about the civic centre area building.

COAL BUSINESS SHOWS INCREASE

Alberta coal mines will soon be back on a five-day working week as seasonal demands for fuel start to build up.

Many mines are now operating three or four days weekly after being down to a lean schedule of two days per week earlier in the summer.

Director of mines branch for the Alberta government, John Crawford, said today there is actually a shortage of miners for present production needs.

Extremely mild winter led to the sharp reduction of coal output in Alberta mines last spring. Railways and householders had ample stocks of reserve fuel.

Since the first of the month larger orders are being received by domestic and bituminous mines as householders prepare to build up new fuel stocks against next winter.

Total production of domestic coal in the province is up by 600,000 tons over last year.

Cruel Assault Leads To Jail

George Courtney, no fixed address, was sentenced to one year in jail for assaulting a disabled man and for attempting to shop break.

The accused was found guilty of the charges in police court July 23, but was remanded for sentence until record for previous convictions could be checked.

Courtney struck a disabled fairgoer in the face while he was attending the exhibition July 21.

Later the same night he attempted to force entry to the Industrial Building at the fair grounds.

Police arrested him later the same night.

Poultry Sale Board Talked

Formation of a new poultry marketing board for Alberta is under consideration by members of the industry, it was announced Saturday by R. C. Marier, president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

A meeting for the purpose of setting up a special committee to establish the new board is scheduled to be held in Edmonton Wednesday.

Besides Mr. Marier, those expected to participate in the meeting will be O. S. Longman, deputy minister of agriculture; J. H. Rhodes, Banff; K. V. Kapler, Strome; James Wood, Einora; F. S. Pegg, Hayter; R. J. Ferguson and J. I. Wright, Edmonton; Ellis Johnstone, Red Deer; J. E. Oberholtzer, deputy minister of industry and labor; Carl J. Stimpfle and Mrs. M. E. Lowe of the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

Fatal Accident

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Aug. 8—(CP)—Struck by an automobile, W. J. Rowe, 73, of Regina, was fatally injured here late Saturday. In the east for a visit, he had stopped here for the day.

Driver Hurt In Odd Crash

A Calder motorist was thrown from his car which continued driverless for 50 feet before it stopped, in a freak accident Saturday night at 127 avenue near 116 street.

Driver of the car, Sam Andrusiak, 13018-132 street, sustained a fractured shoulder blade and severe bruises to the head. He was treated at the Royal Alexandra hospital and has since been released.

Andrusiak claimed he was driving east on 127 avenue when lights of a passing car momentarily blinded him. His car hit a deep ditch in the road. The impact flung him out the left door.

The car went 50 feet farther and stopped in some heavy earth at the road side. Damage to the springs and axle was estimated at $100. A passenger was also thrown from the car but sustained no injuries.

Chinese Pirates Menace Steamers

HONG KONG, Aug. 8—(AP)—Three steamers from Canton arrived in Hong Kong today after a running gun fight with pirates in which one Chinese passenger was killed and another wounded. The vessels were sailing together for protection. Ships' officers said the pirates attacked from the banks of the Pearl River eight miles from Canton.

CABIN NOW WANDERING

Scouts' Home May Settle In Bridge Park Grounds

City council will be asked tonight to do its Boy Scout good deed in the interest of the community at large.

It will be asked to give its blessing to a proposal to dedicate a strip of park land at the north-west corner of the Low Level bridge as Baden-Powell Park, provincial Boy Scout headquarters.

This would end the wandering of the association's new cabin, and lift the provincial government, residents of the area immediately west of the High Level bridge and south of Saskatchewan avenue—together with the Boy Scout Association—off an embarrassing hook.

Last year the provincial government donated a site for Boy Scout headquarters in the triangle immediately west of the High Level bridge and south of Saskatchewan avenue.

Early this spring the association transferred to the site "a fine cabin which we were preparing to face with cedar logs and plot the surrounding grounds in keeping with the headquarters of this type."

But no sooner had the Scouts placed the cabin on the property than a loud outcry was heard from residents of the neighborhood, taking exception to use of the property for such a purpose.

"Not wishing to embarrass the provincial government, we decided to look for another suite," the association says.

Explaining their predicament to Mayor H. D. Ainlay and Commissioner John Hodson, the association was offered a solution.

If it will consider a piece of land the city owns at the north-west corner of the Low Level bridge, which is set aside for city park lands, the mayor and commissioner will recommend that the Scouts will be given a space within the strip on which to place the cabin, with sufficient area to landscape the grounds.

"The suggested site would be highly acceptable to the Provincial Scout organization, and buildings and grounds would be maintained in keeping with the surroundings," the Association says.

To clinch the matter, the Boy Scout association suggests that if council finds it practicable to let the new cabin come to tranquil rest on the suggested site, the strip of land be dedicated to the memory of the founder of the movement, as "Baden-Powell Park."

DOOR-TO-DOOR SALE OF EGGS POSSIBLE

With milk deliveries still unsettled, city fathers face a new twist in private enterprise.

Neill Quinn, of Quinn Produce Co., is asking if he can start an egg route.

He wants to retail hen fruit to city homes in the same way dairies and bakeries operate.

City commissioners will toss the idea at council tonight, together with the suggestion that since there is no provision in the license by-law for such routes, the proposal be presented to by-laws committee for consideration.

Only city license required of bakeries and dairies is a vehicle license for each unit operated, they add.

Eviction Protest Goes Before City Council

Protest against eviction by Aug. 31 from premises required for the proposed extension to Macdonald hotel will be registered tonight before city council by 20 businesses at the corner of Jasper and 100 street.

They ask to remain until the first of January, 1950, because construction will reportedly not be undertaken until next year.

Submitting that they have long established businesses and that it is impossible to obtain new locations with 30 days the 20 say it will be a profound hardship and financial loss if the eviction date stands.

"We have no desire to hold up the city, but as long standing taxpayers we ask to remain until the beginning of January, 1950."

Their letter to city council says "we are aware that no construction will be commenced until, at the earliest, during the spring or summer of 1950."

Much loss will accrue to each by demolition of their business places this fall, they say.

Mayor H. D. Ainlay has said several times recently that the city has kept its tenants on the site well informed of developments regarding the hotel addition.

Last week he said that while tenants have been notified to leave by Aug. 31, the city would grant such extension as from time to time is feasible. As long as tenants move out within one month of actual start of construction, the city will be satisfied.

U of A Dean To Give View

Status of the teaching profession will receive special attention at the 26th annual convention of the Canadian Education Association.

Association meeting will be held in Fredericton, N.B., on Sept. 13, 14 and 15.

Outstanding speakers from within and outside the teaching profession will address delegates attending the convention.

University of Alberta professor Dr. M. E. Lazerte, dean of the education faculty, will lead a panel discussion on the subject, "The Status of the Teaching Profession."

Such phases of the profession as teacher supply and demand, topics relating to Catholic schools in Quebec, living and working conditions of teachers, teacher training and standards, and salaries and pensions, will be dealt with.

Two committee reports will be heard at the convention, the national committee on school health research and the Canadian research committee on practical education.

Dr. A. W. Trueman, president of the University of New Brunswick, will address the convention on the first day.

Two other highlights of the three-day convention will be speeches by T. H. Robinson, manager of industrial relations of the Canadian International Paper Co., Montreal, and Dr. A. C. Lewis, dean of the Ontario College of Education of the University of Toronto, who will report on the UNESCO Education Mission to the Philippines.

Good Week's Work

WORCESTER, Mass. — (UP) — Within a single week, all four sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Deedy received diplomas from various schools and colleges.

TELLER IS BAG-HOLDER

VANCOUVER, Aug. 8—(CP)—A Bank of Nova Scotia bank teller was left holding the bag Saturday while two bandits stuffed it full of money.

Accountant Lloyd Miller was forced to assist two bandits as they robbed the Bank of Nova Scotia near Fortieth and Dunbar, Saturday morning.

One of the men thrust a black automatic into Miller's back and ordered him to hold a paper bag.

Then the thugs forced Miller to "dig out the money" until he had exhausted the till.

Thief Nabs Bag, Bags Jail Term

George Acheson, no fixed address, was sentenced to three months in jail when he pleaded guilty in police court Saturday to a charge of theft.

Detective J. O. McMurray testified that he arrested the accused in the Ritz Hotel after finding beneath his coat a woman's purse worth $5.50, previously reported stolen from a down town department store.

MISFORTUNE FOLLOWS CITY FLOOD VICTIMS

Things have gone from bad to worse for Edmonton's flood victims who have been without a home for three weeks.

Despite last week's expression of hope by city officials that home may be found for this family, they are still without prospects of a place to live.

Sickness and disease has forced the C. L'Heureux family of eight to split up and find more healthy living quarters than the Walterdale Community church where they had taken shelter.

They moved into the church, across from their former home at 9019-106 street, which they evacuated as a result of the flash flood July 16.

The L'Heureux infant developed an illness from the damp surroundings in the church and has been moved to a south side residence with the mother and a three-year-old daughter.

Stricken with a severe case of mumps, the 12-year-old daughter is now being nursed in a west side house.

Mr. L'Heureux, a son and a 17-year-old daughter are sticking it out in the church, having no other place to live. The church has been described by neighbours as "not fit for living in."

Last week the family was hopefully awaiting the outcome of a proposal by the city to the school board that the family be allowed to live temporarily in the Walterdale Community school.

During the storm on July 16 a flood-swollen sewer burst on the hillside above the South Side community. The main floor of the L'Heureux home was under almost a foot of muddy water.

City health authorities, fearing possible contamination from the sewer muck deposited on the floors, ordered the home evacuated.

Big Oil Auction Planned Aug. 25

Government To Put 3½ Sections On Block

Another of Alberta's giant auction sales which lack a leather-lunged auctioneer, but generally have everything else including prize packages and million-dollar bids is slated for Aug. 25.

At the sale, the Alberta government is putting on the block petroleum and natural gas leases for three and a half sections of land in the rich Redwater oil field, 35 miles northeast of Edmonton.

The land is broken up into quarter-section "parcels," and tenders are accepted up to the close of business Aug. 25.

Technically, it is not a sale—the oil companies pay "cash bonuses" for the oil rights. They still do not own the land, and they still must pay a royalty to the provincial government on any oil they get.

MAY BE REJECTED

The bidders are not present at the sales, either. It is carried on behind the closed doors of the office of Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of mines and minerals. Sometimes the government considers the bids too low and holds out for more by rejecting all bids.

But in most cases where such sales have been held the bids run into at least six figures.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation of Delaware, Md., put a record $3,223,320 on the line for a section where the company may drill 16 wells. It already has completed two wells and is testing them.

On an adjoining section, Royalite Oil Company, a Canadian concern, paid $3,153,491 for the oil rights on a section that proved a "prize package." The company completed 16 big producers.

In the sale Aug. 25 the Alberta government is offering 14 quarter-section parcels at Redwater—about 160 acres each. They are checkerboarded around the proven sections of the oil field.

It is no accident that the government holds the oil rights on such rich territory, which have swelled the public treasury by more than $16,000,000 in leases and bonuses during the last 1½ years.

Through a policy instituted in January, 1948, the Alberta government makes sure of its share in any oil fields and at the same time leaves the way open for anyone to "buy in."

PERIODIC SALES

When a company obtains a reservation on a tract of land to "wildcat" for oil, it has first rights to obtain leases for further drilling if oil is discovered. But it can only lease one half of the crown rights in each township. The maximum single-lease block is nine sections. The other half becomes crown reserve, for disposal as decided by the government.

In the last 18 months, the government has made periodic offerings of these reserves in section or quarter-section blocks.

Most have been in the Redwater and Woodbend oil fields. The next may be in the Golden Spike field, 10 miles west of Edmonton, where Imperial Oil Limited got the biggest well in Canada last spring—Imperial Schoepp No. 1 whose initial potential flow was 10,000 barrels a day.

It was a wildcat on a crown reserve. Imperial has selected its half of the crown reserves, and the other half may soon be placed on the block.

STIFFER RULES

Boom Hits City Traffic Enforcement

City police traffic department is feeling Edmonton's growing pains.

Four city intersections recently have demanded special attention by the traffic patrol. These include corners as far out of the city centre as Fort Trail and 118 avenue, and 124 street and 104 avenue.

Jay walkers and double parkers have lately become pests and police traffic men are no longer merely warning offenders, they are fining them.

Periodical checks are being made on corners at 82 avenue and 99 street, Fort Trail and 118 avenue for motorists failing to observe stop signs. Police are also tired of motorists who do not heed the amber light at Jasper and 109 street.

The traffic department has received orders to crack down on double parkers. Any motorists double parking without legitimate excuses will be fined.

Persons in double parked cars even with the car's motor running are still finable.

Child Struck On Street

A four-year-old boy was slightly injured Saturday when he ran into the side of a moving car near 96 street and 105 avenue.

Lorne Powers, 10524 97 street, was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital at 4:55 p.m. by Arthur Cook, 11341 127 street, driver of the car. The lad was found suffering from an injured foot and bruises.

Cook stated to the police that he was driving slowly south on 96 street when the child ran from behind a parked car into the right rear of his car. The child was struck by the right rear fender.

Two Firms Seek Land Purchases

City coffers will be $31,397 richer and the city will have a new $500,000 Weston bakery and a new $150,000 Crane Ltd. business place if city council tonight approves two land sales.

City commissioners will recommend sale of city-owned sites in the newly-opened heavy industry zone from Kingsway to 114 avenue between 119 and 121 streets, one to Weston Bakeries Ltd. and the second to Crane Ltd.

Weston Bakeries Ltd. has offered to buy a lot between 120 and 121 streets, south of the lane south of Kingsway, at the city's upset cash price of $20,465.

Construction of a $500,000 modern bakery plant will begin by Sept. 30 this year if the sale is approved.

Crane Ltd. wants to buy a lot at the southeast corner of 120 street and Kingsway at the city's upset cash price of $10,932, payable $2,000 in cash and the balance at or before date of transfer.

The company intends to complete by April 15, 1950, construction of a $150,000 building for carrying on its business.

MLAs to See Oil Deposits

Alberta's legislature members will get a firsthand view of northern Alberta's oil sands deposits this month.

A party of MLA's will leave August 24 to visit the oil deposits at Bitumount.

They will travel by NAR to Waterways and thence by special CP Airways charter plane to Bitumount.

Also planned is a visit to the salt plant at Fort McMurray. The legislators will return to Edmonton August 26.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Despite Temperature August Is Fur-Time

By Bea Thrifty

For those brave souls who are thinking of shopping for fur coats in this heat-wave, here's good news.

August sales are in full swing, and retail prices are at the lowest level in some years, according to merchants.

Why? you ask. There seems to be no reason except for general world conditions.

Don't expect prices to go too low, though. Fur dealers say that the high cost of fur labor prevents heavy slashes in price.

No radical changes in styles are forecast. The ripple and flare backs will continue to be popular, and nearly all models will have collars.

* * *

To cope with the unpredictable ways of fashion designers, crafty fur designers are making the coats in various lengths.

Besides the full-length coat, ever-popular and most suitable for older women, the seven-eighths and fingertip lengths are also shown.

The latter is perfect for evening or for the college queen.

* * *

Reports from the Coast and from Calgary to the effect that lard, shortening, veal and lamb prices had taken a drop last week caused a flurry of excitement in this department.

It was short-lived when calls to Edmonton dealers brought the news that such was not the case in Edmonton.

* * *

In fact, for one of those economic reasons which are incomprehensible to the average buyer, lard and shortening prices have risen slightly here.

It is true that veal and lamb are much cheaper now than earlier in the summer, but such a change is seasonable.

For instance, as it became more plentiful, a leg of lamb dropped in price from 95 cents a pound to 70. Which is still plenty high.

One of the most popular lines of women's tailored dresses is making its debut into the women's specialty shops.

Fashioned on classic lines that are always right, these shirtwaist models feature feminine touches such as double flap pockets, cuffs, decorative buttons and softly pleated skirts.

* * *

New bracelet sleeve length is a new feature this year in this line.

You have your choice of three materials, wool crepe and wool jersey for $25, and silk crepe for $19.95.

The rich fall tones of burgundy, forest green, midnight blue and chocolate brown are perfect for office, school or home.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Couple Should Consider Tastes Before Marrying

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married about a year to a husband who dislikes intensely my love for good literature and studying, but until last week there has been no great dissension about it.

I do all of my housework and cooking and help him in his business for a few hours every day, but my evenings are left alone, as he does not return from work until 11 p.m. So I decided to take up a small college course of two hours on Tuesday and Thursday nights. This angered my husband so much that he refuses even to speak to me.

What must I do? This is not the fifty-fifty marriage of which I dreamed. Am I to be this man's slave?

May I not have for my own, to use innocently, four hours out of the 168 in a week? My husband's conduct is killing my love and making me hate him.

TROUBLED WIFE.

ANSWER: Your husband's conduct is inspired by jealousy. His egotism makes him desire to be superior to you in every way, to pose before you as an oracle, and so he cannot bear for you to study and read and make yourself his intellectual superior.

Very many men take this attitude toward their wives. It is really the explanation of why so many clever men marry fools. A man always wants to look down on his wife instead of up to her.

So, in judging your husband, bear this in mind and realize that it is his distorted love for you that makes him want to keep you in his own intellectual class. He feels that the only way he can keep you is to fetter your mind.

He is not wise enough to know that the very method he is taking defeats its own end and that nothing he could possibly do would drive you away from him so surely as this unreasoning and petty tyranny.

If your taking the college course angers your husband so much, possibly you will be wise to give it up in the interest of peace and harmony.

But don't give up your reading and studying, for the world of books is going to be the place of refuge to which you will have to flee when you find life with a small-minded husband almost impossible.

But why did you marry a man whose tastes are so uncongenial and unsympathetic? How was it possible not to find out before marriage your fiance's attitude toward the things that meant so much to you?

If only young people, who think they are in love with each other, would stop asking each other about the state of their affections and would put a few searching questions about their tastes and habits and opinions, how many unhappy marriages could be prevented!

Mother And Son Never Separated

ADDISCOMBE, Surrey, England, Aug. 5—(CP)—Neighbors who wondered why frail Mrs. Viva Bean and her son, Frank, were such a cheerful pair learned the answer—after the mother's death.

Leaving the whole of her £2,450 ($9,800) estate to her 22-year-old boy, Mrs. Bean wrote in her will:

" . . . in profound gratitude for his unfailing affection and kindness to me and for the fun we have had together."

Frank, a student at the Royal Academy of Music, has been the "man about the house" since his father died leaving him an only child, aged six.

"Mother and I have always been everywhere together and found more fun sharing each other's company than by going off on our own.

"I nursed her through her last illness, and what seemed to keep her going when she was in great pain were the stories of my mistakes at cooking."

A Massachusettes shoemaker revolutionized the industry in 1894 by inventing a machine for sewing leather soles, replacing the nail and wooden peg method.

I wanted to find out how the ten leading tunes are selected, and I learned that it takes a staff of mathematicians to tabulate the songs played on juke boxes, the sheet music and records sold. This tabulation service also keeps track of all the songs played on the radio stations throughout the country.

Mark says it takes a lot of different forms of relaxation to keep his crew of 40 musicians happy. Of course, cards play an important part. He claims he is a poor gin rummy player himself. He said the boys get into a lot of arguments in bridge and there was plenty of argument on both sides on today's hand.

South claimed that North's jump to four spades showed him a very powerful hand and he was justified in bidding six spades. North claimed that South should have used the Blackwood bid of four no trump. Maybe he had something there.

When West opened the jack of hearts, South won with the queen and immediately proceeded to discard his losing diamond on the third heart. East argued that his partner should have laid down the ace of spades first. However, I think that was a weak argument. The jack of hearts looks like the natural opening and it was unfortunate that East held the ace of diamonds instead of the ace of hearts.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Calm Mother Can Aid In Ending Convulsions

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Convulsions are so terrifying as to deprive the parent who witnesses them of the ability to act wisely. Yet small children are subject to convulsions for relatively trivial causes and with no after effects.

They may be due to rickets, in which case the calcium balance of the body is low and needs to be built up with high-mineral foods and adequate dosages of vitamin D.

Convulsions—they used to be called spasms—may, of course, be caused by some injury to the brain; they may be influenced by a high fever or may be evidences of petit or grand mal (relative degrees of epilepsy).

The first step then would be to discover what is causing the child to run a high fever and fall into convulsions, or have convulsions without accompanying fever.

During the attack the mother need not stand helplessly and wring her hands. What can be done is well within the capacity of any mother who will quell her panic and get to work.

The old method of dipping a child into a tub of deep, hot waer, had the disadvantage of demanding a ready supply of hot water and of the not remote danger of having the water so hot as to injure the unconscious child, who could not make his protests known.

It is just as effective to wrap the child—lying comfortably on a bed—in towels wrung out of very cold water. The temperature of the body is immediately lowered and this is one way to influence the convulsions. A wash cloth wrung out of ice water should be placed on the forehead.

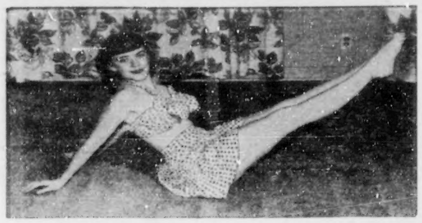
Remove these towels as they grow warm and wring them out of the cold water again. It should not take long for the child to respond favorably.

Sponge baths of tepid water with some alcohol or just an alcohol rub are helpful in reducing the temperature and ending the convulsions.

If there has been a orgy of eating which may have been responsible for the convulsion, then a cool enema will bring down the fever and relieve the lower bowel of an accumulation of food.

These are temporary measures to end the immediate disturbance and then the mother should not rest until she has run down its cause so that future convulsions may be avoided.

Our leaflet No. 18, "Disease Preventives," discusses the various immunizations which are given to the modern baby and child. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.



IT IS FROM this position that you roll your hipe back and forth, from left to right, to make those extra inches disappear.

WHY GROW OLD

Exercise Helps To Reduce Hips

By Josephine Lowman

Women are bewildered by the great number of exercises they see described in magazines, newspapers and books! They cannot possibly take all of them or a large portion of them. They wonder which are best for their special figure faults. They do not want to waste energy or time in lost motions.

This week I am writing about what puzzles women and I am sure this is one thing which puzzles them greatly. Therefore, I am going to do my girl scout good deed today by helping you out.

Most of the exercises I will describe have been given in this column before but I want to give you what I consider the most effective ones.

One exercise for hip reduction: this is for the large back hipline. Sit on the floor resting on your hands, which are placed on the floor behind you. Your legs are straight. Lift your legs off the floor and lean back until your body weight falls directly over the largest part of your hips.

With your knees still straight, roll from side to side. Do not let the legs return to the floor until you are tired and ready for a rest period. Rest and continue. Do not do this exercise on a thick rug; either on the bare floor or on a thin pad or rug.

One exercise for reducing the abdomen: lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Bend your left knee up close to your abdomen. As your left leg straightens bend your right leg. One bends as the other straightens. Bring your heels close to the floor but do not touch the floor. After a while rest and repeat.

An exercise for reducing the large thigh: lie on your back with your knees bent and your feet flat on the floor. Roll from side to side, slapping your upper leg against the floor on each side.

For reducing the waist: stand tall with your feet separated. Raise your arms sideways, shoulder height. Bend to the left and try to touch your left hand to the floor. Raise the trunk and pull backward a little as you pass the centre line. Now bend to the right. Raise the trunk and continue.

You should always include the double cross in any routine because it is reducing to the waist, hips and thighs. Lie on your back, arms on the floor, stretched out from the shoulders. Cross the left leg over the right, with a stiff knee and try to touch the right hand with the left foot.

FEEL that "Finger-tip" Handling Ease!

What a dream to drive!—that's what owners say about the new Ford. Try the "feel" of its new "arrow-straight" steering, with "Finger-tip" Control . . . of Ford's 35% easier-acting "King-Size" brakes and "feather-light" gear shifting . . . and you will agree.

FEEL the Power!

It's breathtaking—the "zip" and "go" the new Ford puts at your command. The reason is, the '49 Ford gives you 100 Horsepower—with that famous V-8 "Equa-Poise" mounted Engine that means silky smoothness, longer life. And owners report up to 10% greater gasoline mileage!

The '49 Ford was awarded the Fashion Academy Gold Medal as "Fashion Car of the Year."

Chrome wheel trim rings and white sidewall tires optional at extra cost when available.

FEEL the New Springing!

Try Ford's new "Mid Ship" Ride. It's wonderful, and there's a reason: the new "Sofa Wide" Seats are placed between the axles, where the going is smoothest. "Hydra-Coil" front springs and "Para-Flex" rear springs give relaxed riding comfort. And a new, low centre of gravity adds still more to Ford's "big car" roadability.

FEEL that Lifeguard Safety!

You'll feel safer and be safer in the '49 Ford—because the new "Lifeguard" Body of heavy gauge steel and new rigid frame combine to give 59% more strength and protection. Big safety glass "Picture Windows".

Poles Warned About Beliefs

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 8—(UP) — The Polish government warned Catholics today they faced possible death or jail sentences if they use religion to oppose the regime.

The warning was carried in a new decree on religion published in all newspapers and broadcast by the Polish radio.

The decree was approved by ministers in the council of state and effectively outlaws any religious activity which the state does not approve.

The death sentence is provided for persons who commit crimes against others because of religion if the crime results in death "or if there has been disturbance of normal public life or danger to public security."

HOT AND COLD waxes this specially-built concrete testing apparatus at University of Alberta. Machine tests durability of concrete by freezing to 0°F. then heating to 70°. Twelve slabs of concrete can be tested at same time. Glycol, (anti-freeze) is circulated around slabs. Temperature is recorded from white wires leading from concrete to automatic recorder at right. Taking notes on test run is engineering grad Louie Jasper.

WIFE TRIES TOO HARD

CALGARY, Aug. 8—(CP)—Trying to be a good wife has its problems.

Mrs. George Sussez of Lyden, Wash., was shaking out her husband's pants on an eighth-floor fire escape of a downtown hotel yesterday when $200 in American traveller's cheques dropped out.

They have not been recovered.

Tiny Bubbles of Soap May End Paving Problem

A few spoonfuls of soap solution may be the answer to Alberta's paving problems.

Old Man Frost, the scourge of concrete roads and buildings in this country, has been set back on his heels with a simple process that makes concrete as much as 20 times more durable.

Known as "air entrainment" the process consists merely of adding a small quantity (about 30 cubic centimetres) of soap, tallow or resin to a bag of cement.

By this method, small air bubbles the size of sand grains are entrained into the concrete to give it more durability against frost, water and alkali soils.

Canadian pioneers in the air entrainment method are members of the University of Alberta civil engineering department under the direction of I. A. Thorssen, professor of civil engineering.

Working along lines set by American engineers since 1938 and during World War II, the U of A engineers began research into air entrainment in 1945.

By setting up a specially-built freezing and thawing machine, the only one of its kind in Canada, the Albertans investigated air entrainment suitable to the hot-and-cold weather of western Canada.

Today, air entrainment is used by the city of Edmonton for all curbs, sidewalks and pavements, and by the bridge department of the province's Department of Public Works, for all pier construction.

In addition to frost protection the concrete will not break up as quickly under action of salt used as a de-icing agent on roads during winter.

TRIAL PLANNED

Method cuts paving costs by doing away with the protective coat of asphalt over concrete roads.

This autumn city engineers are going to lay trial sections of air entrained concrete without asphalt topping.

Some idea of the strength of processed concrete is shown by tests made at the University of Alberta.

Durability of concrete is tested by the freezing-and-thawing unit built by U. of A. engineers who used a U.S. army design as a guide.

Testing unit freezes concrete to 0 degrees F. then heats it to 70 degrees. Process of varying temperature by 70 degrees is known as a "cycle."

Machine is capable of putting one specimen of concrete through 300 cycles a month, that is, it can thaw and freeze one slab of concrete 300 times.

Now, under this freezing and thawing process ordinary concrete completely falls apart after 25 cycles. Air entrained concrete will show only partial disintegration after 500 cycles!

LACOMBE MAN HELPS

In other words, air entrainment means concrete is nearly 20 times more lasting than ordinary untreated cement.

Best results are obtained by using natural wood resins, animal or vegetable fats and oils to entrain the air bubbles into cement.

A mixture is added in powder or solution form during mixing.

Further research into air entrainment is being carried out at U. of A. this year by Louie Jasper, Lacombe, who graduated in civil engineering this spring.

Under the direction of Prof. Thorssen, Jasper will study effects of air entrainment in concrete block and brick manufacture.

Other U. of A. graduates who have worked with Prof. Thorssen on the concrete research include Be Torchinsky, Calgary, and Ken Lauer, Bruno, Sask.

First concrete research at the University was initiated and backed by the city of Edmonton. Since then seven Alberta construction firms have supported the project including two Edmonton firms, O.K. Construction & Supply Co. Ltd. and Alberta Concrete Products.

AGED VET SURVIVES TREE FALL

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 8—(UP)—Civil War veteran Charles L. Chappel, 102, should suffer no ill effects from a fall from a tree if he escapes pneumonia, doctors said today.

The spry Chappel was taken to naval hospital Saturday following his ill-fated attempt to harvest his peach crop. First reported in serious condition because of heart trouble, he later was said to be "doing nicely."

WOMAN ANGRY

Snowballing Report Heats Heated Police

RED BANK, N.J., Aug. 8—(AP)—The thermometer was in the high 80s Saturday. Police Capt. Charles Ericksen mopped his brow and answered the headquarters phone.

"Somebody's throwing snowballs," a woman's voice announced indignantly.

Ericksen promised police would investigate.

He said it carefully again on the police radio network and sent a patrol car to check the weather on Moford Place.

They found kids were collecting fine ice shavings from a nearby ice plant, packing them into snowballs and tossing them at people sitting on the porches.

Some of the victims said they didn't mind a bit but police insisted that snowball throwing was a nuisance even in August. They scattered the kids.

Zoot-Suiters Land In Jail

AYR, Ont., Aug. 8. — (CP)—Twelve invading "zoot-suiters" were whisked to county jail at Kitchener early today after a near-riot in this South Waterloo county village.

Police said 11 of the arrested youthful "zoot-suiters" are from Guelph and the other from Hespeler. They are scheduled to appear in county court later today charged with creating a disturbance.

The invading force, wearing multi-colored clothes and sporting long-swaggering chains, drove into the village last night on the back of a truck. They were reported to have challenged many local youths to fight.

Police moved onto the scene as a crowd of 300 milling persons were set for open battle.

Two Men Admit Destroying Auto

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 8—(CP)—Two young men who admitted pushing an automobile over a 75-foot embankment because one couldn't afford to keep up finance company payments will be sentenced today on public mischief charges. Archibald Sarkville, 22, of London, and Jack Lawrence, 21, of nearby Komoka pleaded guilty to the charges Saturday.

Sex of Children May Be Fixed In Advance

DURHAM, N.C., Aug. 8—(AP)—Scientific evidence that parents may be able to choose between having a boy or a girl baby has been found in the Duke University department of surgery.

The choice has nothing to do with surgery, and is something everyone can try without annoyance. The choice is not certain, but in the Duke studies the percentage is slightly over 25 in favor of having the sex you want.

A difficult part of the trick is for a woman to know for sure her fertile period, which is a matter of two or three days only, once a month.

FEMALES FAVORED

In the Duke studies, conceptions in the early part of the fertile period favor female births. Conceptions late in the period seem to show a preponderance of males.

The Duke studies were made by Doctors Deryl Hart and James D. Moody, and are reported in the Annals of Surgery, a Philadelphia medical publication.

The idea comes from a number of facts collected by medical scientists in the last decade. One is the surprising results of 9,489 artificial inseminations.

RATIO UPSET

The usual ratio in human sex is 105 males to 100 females. But in these inseminations there were 5,676 males. This, says the Annals article, is a 48 per cent increase in males over the theoretically expected number.

In artificial insemination, fairly exact knowledge of the fertile period is essential. Whether this series might have been due to luck, Drs. Hart and Moody do not say. They cite it as a possible result of timing.

The series was reported by Drs. Frances F. Seymour and Alfred Koerner in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Eight Nazis To Die For War Massacre

LILLE, France, Aug. 8—(AP)—Eight members of Hitler's S.S. Elite Corps Saturday were sentenced to death for the massacre of 77 French civilians in the village of Ascq April 1, 1944. A ninth was sentenced to 15 years in prison.

Father, Son Die As Home Burns

CHANDLER, Que., Aug. 8—(CP)—Two members of a family of 13 were burned to deathe early yesterday when fire destroyed the wooden house of Georges Galland in this Gaspe Peninsula town. Dead are George Gallant, 39, and his 14-year-old son Valmont. The blaze is believed to have been caused by a defective electrical switch.

CENSUS NEXT YEAR

Nose-Counting Task Is Rehearsed in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—(CP)—What is the population of the United States?

A small army of men and women will knock on 40,000,000 doors next year to get the answer to that one. Their job is the 17th United States census, a mammoth task undertaken every 10 years.

They will check every dwelling in the country—from the apartments of New York to the farmhouses of the prairies—and find out how accurate is the current population estimate of 150,000,000. The enumeration will start April 1, 1950.

Coupled with the census next year will be a survey of some 6,500,000 farms to get up-to-date facts on agricultural crops and practices, irrigation and drainage. This is done every five years.

The population count will have a bearing on the size of the House of Representatives, the lower house of the United States congress. House seats are apportioned on the basis of state populations.

Preparation for the census is a huge job in itself. Proposed questions are being tested in sample surveys in counties across the country. Similarly, various methods of enumeration are being tried. The results of these tests will be studied by census bureau experts before final decisions are made on form and type of questions.

About 1,000,000 maps showing the boundaries, streets, roads and location of houses are being drawn up. Census-takers will have an additional help—aerial photographs of certain crowded areas.

First phase of the tabulation work will be to prepare the figures relating to the size of the House of Representatives. This information must be completed in time for President Truman to submit it to congress in January, 1951.

The rest of the compilation and publication of census results will take 2½ years.

OIL

14 Redwater Leases on Sale

By Hal Dean

Although bids are not likely to touch the record prices paid by Amerada and Royalite for their choice sections in Redwater field, petroleum and natural gas leases offered for sale as at August 25, should result in further substantial sums reaching the coffers of the province of Alberta.

Amerada recently paid $3,223,320 for section 16 and already has two wells completed, while Royalite gave $3,135,491 for section 15 and promptly marked up 16 successful completions.

Several of the parcels upon which offers are now asked appear to be well located and five call for an over-riding royalty to the province of 15 per cent, in addition to cash tender.

NEAR ROYALITE

Two are south and southwest quarters of section 23-57-21-W4. This section corners Royalite's fabulous 16-producers section.

Another two of the 15-per cent over-riding royalty offerings are northwest and southeast quarters of section 8-58-21, and are, as yet, a considerable distance from production, nearest well being Imperial Egremont No. 11 in southeast of section 6. McColl-Frontenac is understood to be owner of southwest quarter of 5.

Fifth in the group is southwest section 17-58-22-W4, more than two miles away from nearest producers in section 10 brought in team of Pacific-Atlantic-Sunray-Calvan.

In another group offers are asked, with the usual royalty provisions, plus cash, for southeast and southwest section 5-58-21, which are immediately east of Imperial Egremont 10 and 11 in section 6.

Other Redwater area parcels are in sections 3, 9, 15 and 16, all in township 58, range 22 and fairly close to producers in sections 10 and 3.

GAS IN DS TEST

Western Leaseholds Ltd., announces that a drillstem test of the interval 2,087 feet to current bottom 2,126 feet at Western Redwater 17-6 got a natural gas flow at the rate of 149,000 cubic feet a day. No report on the pipe recovery has yet been received. Western Redwater No. 17-11, currently at 3,274 feet tested from 3,213 to 3,136 feet, getting five feet of drilling mud.

Western Redwater No. 21-11, at 3,278 feet, has cemented liner. Gulf-Bigoray No. 10 is drilling at 3,138 feet, Bigoray No. 11 is at 2,470 feet and Bigoray No. 12 has reached 1,630 feet, Gulf-D. G. Jeffrey No. 1 is coring at 2,130 feet.

At Stettler, Gulf-E. Bauer No. 4, spudded in over the weekend, is preparing to run surface casing at 616 feet, and at Pincher Creek, the Walter Marr well is fishing, and Gulf Fred Schrempp is coring at 11,899 feet.

HARGAL 2 AT 4,635

Hargal Leduc No. 2 is drilling below 4,635 feet, making about four feet an hour. New Pacalta Whitemud No. 2 was to have spudded in late Saturday. Leduc Calmar 1-A cored to 5,263 feet, Continental Leduc No. 10 was spudded August 4 and reached 109 feet. Home Anglo Woodbend No. 8 is drilling at 3,209 feet and Home Anglo Woodbend No. 9 is now at 2,443 feet. Home Millarville No. 36 is at 4,731 feet and No. 37 is at 1,661 feet.

WEST HAS SHOWING

In the southwest corner of the Leduc oil field, Calmar West No. 1 sponsored by Calmar West Oils Ltd., received an encouraging showing of oil from the D.2. in a recent drillstem test. The well, in L.S.D. 13-31-49-26 W4th, tested the interval, 5,189 feet to 5,198 feet, for one hour, getting a faint steady gas blow and 150 feet of crude. Production casing is now being set.

Also at Leduc, Leduc Calmar Oil Co. Limited's No. 1.A. well got a flow of natural gas at the rate of 50,000 cubic feet a day in a test from 5,206 feet to 5,223 feet which lasted 90 mins. Following the example of many others, Leduc Calmar has taken 400 acres of freehold land at Stettler. The land involved is in section 1-39-20 W4th. and is about five miles north and a bit east of Canadian Gulf's N. J. Ellis discovery well.

LEAD PRICE IS ADVANCED

NEW YORK Aug. 8.—(AP)—The price of lead was advanced by a leading custom smelter today to 15⅛ cents a pound New York basis. This was a boost of ⅝ of a cent and placed the metal at its highest level since last April 6.

The advance was a continuation of the strengthening of lead prices which has been under way since early July when the climb from the year's low of 12 cents a pound began.

New Buick Car Now On Market

DETROIT, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Buick today introduced its re-designed and re-styled series 40 models.

The series 40, lowest priced of the Buick line of automobiles, has been out of production since last December. Price tags for the new cars will be announced later this week.

Major change is a new body, long and sleek and slightly lower than the similar 1948 series.

Buck reports that by combining the front grille and bumper it has been able to shorten overall length without sacrificing wheelbase length.

The new models are powered with Buick's valve-in-head, straight eight engine.

Industrials Gain With Base Metals

C & E Leads Western Oils; Profit-Taking Hits Golds

TORONTO, Aug. 8—(CP)—Industrials and base metals highlighted a brisk session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrial issues climbed to the highest level since February on gains ranging from fractions to more than a point.

Base metals were in their seventh successive session of advancing prices and western oils also tagged onto the upward trend. Golds bucked profit-taking. Volume was about 1,125,000 shares.

Gains almost tripled losses in the industrial list. Papers, utilities, steels, foods, liquors, constructions and refining oils showed wide lists of gains in the groupings.

Almost every base metal issue continued in strong demand with advances widening as the session progressed. Sherritt Gordon was the most active stock for a good advance.

Selected western oils began to move ahead after a dull opening. Calgary and Edmonton led the way as leaders showed gains ranging up to 30 cents.

Lake Shore climbed to a new high in senior golds but generally the gold list was mixed and under pressure in quiet dealings.

Steels, Motors Spark Advance

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. — (AP) — Accompanied by the heaviest trading in more than four months, the stock market advanced today by fractions to around two points. Volume was about 1,700,000 shares for the entire day.

Steels, motors and rails took the leadership on the rise, and the remainder of that market also participated in the advance.

The upswing was a result of an accumulation of good business news.

Some stocks made wide advances on only a few sales including Superior Oil of California up 10 at 155 and International Business Machines up more than six at around 179.

Others going higher included Nickel Plate, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Kennecott, International Nickel, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, U.S. Rubber, Woolworth, Philco, Zenith, and U.S. Gypsum.

Canadian issues were quiet. Canadian Pacific added ⅛. Dome Mines eased ⅛. Hiram Walker and Distillers Seagrams were unchanged.

On the curb, Lake Shore and Giant Yellowknife were unchanged. Fractions were added by Calgary and Edmonton Corp., Canadian Marconi and Fairchild Engine and Aircraft.

Mines and Papers Finish Strongly

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Demand for a number of metal and paper issues sparked trading near the final hour on the stock exchange and curb market today.

Gains ranged from a shade to more than a point in spots in a generally improved market. Mines were strong.

Volume of sales was fair with 26,800 industrial and 95,300 mining shares turned over.

Brown was well traded, moving up a shade at 2¾. Howard Smith and Powell River gained one point.

Algoma Steel jumped 1¼ to 41 and Stelco was up ½ at 84 in steels. CPR rose ½ at 15.

Aluminum, Hudson Bay Mining and International Nickel rose a point each while Noranada and Consolidated Smelters advanced ¾ and ⅝, respectively in a strong metals group.

Home Oil dipped 10 cents in westerns, while Royalite, Calgary and Edmonton and Gaspe were a few pennies higher.

U.S. ECONOMY STEADIER

Less Recession Talk By Business Analysts

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—(CP)—Talk of a bad recession in the United States has died down among Washington and New York business analysts, but there isn't much wildly optimistic talk, either.

Some prominent Washington experts express belief the economy has become steadier since falling away from last fall's boom level, but they say it hasn't settled on firm ground yet.

Things will stay about as they are or improve a little through September, they predict, then slide off for perhaps nine months—moving towards solid ground so gradually and piecemeal that the direction of movement may at times be hard to tell.

On the other hand, it's hard to find a man in New York who thinks the country is in for more than a moderate and short-lived readjustment before business in general steps ahead again.

One Washigton economist says it's silly to describe present conditions in the United States as a recession when they represent "just what we were hoping and praying for so long—an end to or correction of the inflation." He and other Washingtonians say the distortions of inflation haven't been wiped out yet and that further dips in employment, production, incomes and prices are probable.

However, these encouraging tendencies have been spotted in Washington:

Easy credit and low interest rates; no panic among consumers, business men, banks or government officials; industries apparently going through with plans for new plants and equipment;

Consumers keeping up purchases despite slight decline in incomes; an encouraging spurt in home construction and buying; a levelling-off of the decline in personal income (down only two per cent from last year's peak);

An increase in scheduled steel production late in July, for the first time in several months; auto production keeping at record rate; "some recovery" recently in textile markets. ...

RECENTLY appointed principal Olds School of Agriculture, C. E. Yauch expects well filled classes for the opening of the ensuing school year Oct. 25. Short courses are given at Olds during the summer months.

Lead Demand Is Improved

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The lead market continued to thrive last week and the price climbed another quarter of a cent a pound. Copper and zinc sold in good volume with quotations firm.

The advance in lead, initiated by a custom smelter Tuesday and quickly followed by producers, brought the new price to 14¾ cents a pound, New York, compared with the post-war low of 12 cents which prevailed between May 26 and July 8.

Buying was brick at the new quotation, although sales at the flat price were limited each day and most business was done on the basis of average price during month of shipment.

Copper sales at 17g cents a pound, Connecticut Valley, were reported at about the same volume as the previous week, when some 18,000 tons were sold by the big producers and the custom smelters.

Some sections of the trade anticipated a fractional price boost this week, in view of prospective government stockpile purchasing of copper and the recent improved demand from industrial customers.

Zinc buying was reported satisfactory throughout last week at 10 cents a pound, East St. Louis.

July Visible Wheat Stocks Show Increase

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8. — (CP) — Canadian visible wheat stocks at the close of business in July totalled 54,600,000 bushels as compared to the end of crop year returns of previous seasons of 36,700,000 bushels in 1948, 56,100,000 in 1947 and 43,000,000 bushels in 1945, the Board of Grain Commissioners reported today.

During the closing 10 days, overseas shipments of Canadian wheat were lower at 4,800,000 bushels, while western farmers marketed substantially heavier quantities—6,800,000 bushels—of wheat compared to previous weekly returns.

Lakehead grain handling reports show wheat unloadings of 900,000 bushels and eastern shipments of 2,200,000 bushels. Fort William-Port Arthur wheat stocks were further reduced to 3,500,000 bushels.

Oats, Barley Hold In Steady Trading

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8 — (CP) — Oats and barley prices gave a fairly steady display in moderately active trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. There was a slight increase in hedging sales. Shippers were moderate buyers and there was also some buying from local interests.

Rye selling was based on the weakness in the Chicago market and there were fair hedging sales. American interests were modest buyers on declines in trade. Trading in rye, too, was moderately active.

Class two wheat prices were down one cent with No. 1 northern going at $2.07.

London Stocks

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(Reuters)—Prices of British government stocks tumbled on the London Stock Exchange today.

Renewed heavy selling caused a sharp break and wide declines were shown. Irredeemable issues were the chief sufferers. Throughout the day the market was devoid of support and closed weak.

Although the depression in funds was not without effect elsewhere, price changes in industrials were few and small. Oils were firm.

Kaffir dividend payers were firmer but some of the developers suffered from end account profit-taking.

RED DEER STOCK WORTH THOUSANDS ON PARADE

Feature of the Red Deer fair which concluded Saturday was the display of livestock. On Friday the judging was held under a sweltering sun, but hundreds lined the ring for the day-long proceedings which saw judges inspect everything from light horses to beef cattle, sheep, swine. On Saturday the stock was paraded before the grandstand and picture shows thousands of dollars "on the hoof" lined up in the enclosure.

FINALS OF the provincial junior dairy calf clubs were held in conjunction with the Red Deer fair and one of chief winners was Bob Clark of Didsbury who had the best calf.

FIRST PRIZE for the best yearling at the provincial junior dairy calf clubs show at Red Deer went to Dorothy Anderson, of Springbank.

Red Deer Is All Out For Wagons

RED DEER, August 8.—A wildly cheering crowd, part of a record 30,000 attending Red Deer's two day fair, Saturday saw a spectacular windup when the last chuck wagon race ended in a near photo finish, with three teams tearing past the judges' stand almost neck and neck.

Tommy Dorchester, of Ma-Me-O Beach, was in hospital after a bad spill Friday, but his entry, handled by Jack Lauder of Elnora, circled the track to nose O Pearson the track in 1:13:3 to nose O Pearson, Morningside, who clocked 1:13:4. Third was Bill Greenwood of Lousana, with 1:14:4.

TOP WAGONS

Top money men for the chuckwagon meet were: 1. Jack Higgins, Aldersyde, 3:32:4. 2. Willard Queenstown, 3:37:4; Bill Greenwood, Lausana, 3:42:4; Johnnie Phelan, Red Deer, 3:44:2.

Orville Strandquist of Stettler, suffered a fractured spine, Friday when he drove over a barrel, and Tommy Dorchester, a broken arm in another smashup.

The races proved such crowd pleasers, that the Red Deer fair board is making plans for an annual chuckwagon roundup, to be held Labor Day.

This year, a possible 35 to 40 outfits, complete with stoves, tents and four outriders apiece, are expected to battle it out for $1,500 in prize money.

Swimming Award

DAWSON CREEK, August 8.—A Red Cross award was made to John Morrison, 17, who took a lifesaving course in Edmonton recently.

Chairman of the village commissioners presented him with a bronze medallion, an instructor's badge, a diploma and a gold lapel pin.

500 Attend Devon Rally

DEVON, Aug. 8 — Nearly 500 attended Devon Canadian Legion drumhead service conducted by Rev. C. E. F. Wolff, padre of Edmonton's Kingsway branch.

The service concluded a three-day carnival arranged by the legion branch which featured visits to the oil fields, a legion rally and parade headed by the Edmonton legion pipe band, Devon scouts and cubs.

Mr. Wolff, in his sermon, drew attention to the religious freedom of the democracies. This, he said, was earned at a high price. Likewise, the Canadian Legion principles were based on freedom and service to others.

"Let us be worthy of the heritage we have received and worthy of those who have gone before", he said, "and be proud to belong to the most exclusive organization in the world".

The carnival receipts will be devoted to the Devon and district swimming pool. A carnival held recently by the D3 Club raised $1,000 for the fund.

Baseball feature of the carnival saw Wetaskiwin defeat Devon.

Valentine's Day Finally Arrives

By Ken Liddell
Provincial News Editor

PROSPECT POINT ON THE PRAIRIE, August. 8.—The women's Guild held a successful Valentine's Day tea last Thursday.

The parish hall was tastefully decorated with hearts, but your correspondent noticed that some of the looks that were passed carried daggers.

Special guests were several city ladies who are visiting in town and they found the whole motif somewhat confusing.

* * *

It didn't help much when it was explained that the Guild held a Valentine's tea and dance once each year but they got a litle mixed up in their dates a few years back when nobody in town had a calendar with the special days marked in red and none could remember just when St. Valentine's Day fell.

Since then they've hed the tea at their convenience and as one lady explained to a visitor it was the spirit of the thing that counted, but at her age it didn't count very much.

* * *

Proceeds of the affair will be devoted to repairing four broken windows in the hall and to the fund to buy a new coal oil stove for the hall kitchen.

The ladies decided fairest way to pay for the broken windows would be through Guild funds since none would admit it was their darlings who broke the windows.

As for the coal oil stove, it is considered a necessity. Up to now the ladies have been bringing the meals for parish affairs from their homes and the advertising "hot lunches will be served" has become something of a joke.

* * *

Your correspondent hopes the ladies are successful in getting a coal stove and soon, if only for sake of the coffee.

The ladies this year did their usual job of preparing lunch, and your correspondent, who is soon leaving the community to reside elsewhere, has no hesitation in saying it was one of the lousiest he has ever had.

* * *

The dance was an unqualified success, particularly as the attractive miss who has been in town looking over teaching procpects in the town school, was present.

After the dance she said she didn't think she would be staying. She came from Ontario to further her education by teaching in a country school.

She spent some time in Edmonton before coming to Prospect Point and she said two highlights of her western trip were the Edmonton flood and the Guild's dance. She said there was a certain similarity. Both left her wringing wet.

HANNA, August 8.—Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada has informed Dr. S. E. C. Argue, that he has been granted a certificate in the specialty of general surgery. Dr. Argue's name will be registered with the college as a specialist in general surgery.

Dust Is Blamed

DAWSON CREEK, Aug. 8—Dust was blamed for an accident on the Alaska Highway about 10 miles from Dawson Creek, when one fuel tanker rammed another. Dave Brown, one of the drivers, suffered leg injuries.

WAINWRIGHT, August 8—The last mark of the fire of 1929, which destroyed practically all of the business section, was removed by a bulldozer. The basement of what was the original site of A. C. Armstrong department store has been for several years a constant reminder of the fire. However, work has begun on these premises and the citizens of Wainwright are to have a bowling alley.

Pioneer Dies

STETTLER, Aug. 8—Bert Smith, 74, died July 24. Mr. Smith was an old-timer of Leo district until he retired to Stettler some years ago.

Traders' Fee Set at $500

DAWSON CREEK, August 8.—A transient traders' licence will now cost $500 for a six-month period in Dawson Creek.

This was decided at a meeting of the town commissioners at which members of the retailers' branch of the chamber of commerce were present.

An alternative to the licence is bond posted in that amount with a pro-rate refund. A peddler licence will now cost $50.

Stettler Permits

GOODYEAR ANNOUNCES CANADA'S

FIRST ALL NYLON CORD AUTO TIRE

THE NEW GOODYEAR DOUBLE EAGLE NYLON CORD Super-Cushion ANOTHER GOODYEAR FIRST

Here it is—the world's only automobile tire with a body made entirely of nylon cord! Each tiny, featherlight nylon strand twice as strong as a steel strand of the same weight, yet as flexible as silk!

In construction, the all nylon Double Eagle is the only automobile tire whose body is made exclusively of nylon cord. Nylon cord weighs far less than conventional cord, yet its phenomenal strength makes it possible for Goodyear to build a tire body that is far stronger than any made with the finest cotton or rayon cords.

Nylon gives the Double Eagle far greater resistance to bruises. Nylon means a much lighter, much cooler-running tire—a tire that's far safer, because it's far stronger!

No wonder the all nylon Double Eagle is the nearest thing to a blowout-proof tire! And mileage? You'll ride safely and comfortably on the all nylon Double Eagle long after any other tire would have to be replaced!

Built on the brilliantly successful principles of Goodyear's famous Super-Cushion tire, the new all nylon Double Eagle is undoubtedly the finest auto tire ever built! It's the tire for the motorist who wants only the very best in comfort, safety and mileage.

THE NEW DOUBLE EAGLE —in combination with Goodyear's matchless LifeGuard Safety Tube—is unquestionably today's final word in motoring luxury, comfort and safety.
